Abstract:- As rightly Said That Bureaucracy is an essential and necessary Evil. And the first step to getting the things you want out of life is that: decide what you want. Moreover, if you look for positive things in your life, you will find them definitely. It is the one small deed that accomplishes more than the thousand words. Thus we are in need of two or more subsystems working together to produce more than total of what they might produce working alone. What the subsystem is.... The Bureaucratic synergy which accounts for peace processes. To succeed in your efforts it is necessary to make others see things as you see them. There is the need of administrative accountability at international level for the maintaining of peace and security. Reasoning and judgement are of drier need accompanied by independent and democratic global governing bodies. Then and then only every sort of disputes and disparities can be addressed upon. There is a need of good governance of international bent and open thought, without nepotism.

I. INTRODUCTION

We are now in a global crisis. The crisis is just beginning, although the causes of the crisis have been building up for decades. The global economic crises are deepening leading to unemployment crises other crimes from cyber crimes like virus attacks, Phishing, hacking etc. All are just because of lack of peace of mind.

The time and now there is a demand of what we call bureaucratic synergy. Bureaucracy at international level, the perpetrators of peaceful coexistence of countries shall work over it. There is demand of professional skills and their enthusiastic power for peace building. They shall play a positive role of their hegemonic being. They shall march towards Agreement instead they are busy in hot arguments. Cooperation can be earned through mutual trust and understanding. It is better to nip the evil into the bud. Otherwise it will be too late to repent upon our doings. It is a spark neglected that burns the house. All the differences, disparities, Controversies whatever may be need to address amicably. As the anger is a tenant of our mind, it may last a minute, an hour or a day even a year, but eventually it will subside. Don't water it as it will bear thorns instead of flowers. God forbid what will be the fate of our mother earth we all can guess and realise better. There will be no gain only loss. It finally is zero some game. On August 8, 2017, President Trump suggested that the United States would wage a "war of fire and fury" against North Korea if they failed to cease nuclear testing. In response, North Korea issued a series of threats against the U.S. territory of Guam as well as allies such as Japan and South Korea.

What will be the consequences of this Hotexchange of talks the world is better known about. As said by Kenneth Waltz in his theory of international politics how states behave in international arena. In his book Theory of international politics (1979) Waltz propounded State of anarchy Whereby all the states cannot think of one another motive and there is no other thing above that. It seeks to explain how states, in particular the most powerful ones, behave, and how they interact with each other on the international arena. Here the small states cannot avoid the game they try to avoid, but they had to play around them and cannot avoid them. They had to be a part of game though they don't want. In Kashmiri language there is a famous proverb, "Srandan hinz ladie te zrandan hinz shahmath" It means that during a bull fight small shrubs became a victim of their game.

In the same way in an international scenario small state actors became the victim of big giants Tussle. They being part of game now are trying to secure their independence but cannot. They fell a victim of weak economic conditions, poverty, Illiteracy and underdevelopment. Everywhere There is state of anarchy, The absence of governance. We as the perpetrators of international peace had to draw the attention of international organisations towards their role for the maintaining of International peace and security. Let's Try to save the futuristic generation from the scourge of one more world war.
