

Satanism And Insanity

(M. R. Pinheiro)/ Twins Of God

Abstract:

In this paper, we delve into the spirit of two satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members and attempt to extract their Modus Cogitandi. We first try to write down one of their inferences and premises that led to it. We then try to analyze the process involved and see if there is an existing psychological theory that explains their inferential processes or if we need to create a new one. We then study the proposal of the own satanic brotherhood/sisterhood as well as its actions with the intent to find contradictions. That is for us to be able to make a decision: if the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood and their members are sane or not. We also defend the thesis that what the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood claims to be the path to total freedom is actually the path to full insanity instead: as the member progresses in degrees of satanic freedom, they also progress in degrees of severity and/or amount of crimes, displaying fewer degrees of civilization and wisdom. Wisdom means common sense, so having wisdom in civilized places means agreeing that what society classifies as crime is bad; therefore, it is not something a person should invest in, especially in the ways of a school. Consequently, joining the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood means having zero wisdom. Zero wisdom ought to mean insanity: there are two possible situations. One is that they believe society, therefore in common sense, meaning that crime should be avoided at almost any expense. However, they join and spend their lives perpetrating, which must mean they are always operating in a situation of shared ego with the other members and the leader - and that is insanity. The second situation is that they are reactionaries, people who still live as if they were in Egypt during Moses' time, which, according to M'Naghten Rule, means insanity. Members who are trying to get out, however, clearly display signs of sanity instead. While pursuing those goals, we acknowledge Taylor Swift's passing and prove that his ID has become another transgender experience for the satanic sisterhood. We also discuss the plans of the satanic brotherhood that involve its Revelation (from the bible they authored): 'Nelson' would have developed an invisible laser to ensure the Rapture, as defined in a particular YouTube video, would occur. This means Christians would disappear from the face of the earth without leaving a trace or, due to the laser, disintegrate completely.

I. Introduction

Satanism appeared as a religion when the satanic bible was used for the first time as basis for action of human beings on earth and that was by 600 BCE [1]. Its forefathers were what seems to be the Nubian gene bearers/Nubian subrace¹ members [20]. One of the places where we can read about its principles, rites and philosophy is the satanic bible [1], but we had the privilege of actually growing up among top members of the satanic brotherhood and sisterhood, and we also had the privilege of interacting with other members plus those throughout life, so that we could observe their actions, thinking and emotions plus discuss some of their plots, individual life stories and institutional plus world history² of the religion called satanism. Besides, we were always the most connected to accessible sources (sources are not considered accessible when, for instance, we are unable to get hold of those, so say the satanic bible. The source that we never became aware of is also in this category) of information, knowledge and wisdom wherever we were throughout our lives³, so that, at least sometimes, we had the opportunity of confirming the plot described by followers, such as 'Rogerio de Oliveira' (part of a cluster of multiples [3] who usurped the carioca man 'Rogerio de Oliveira', inhabitant of Marques de Valenca, end of the street (about 2 streets from the very end, corner with Av. Heitor Beltrao, probably number 134), apartment in Tijuca, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a member of his cluster apparently having 'played' 'Johnny Cash' in Australia at a certain stage) – and he let us know of the 9/11 satanic attack participation (helping pilots pilot) of his (they blame Al Qaeda but the satanic beheaded all other criminal groups that appeared around during the term of their existence on earth (last calculations of ours point at 2,625 years) so that effectively it was always the satanic brotherhood, at most the satanic sisterhood, which appears later, and is exactly the same, just changing the target by one human type, like they then include the black African men who turned themselves into women as a non-priority target) - did come to fruition (news), which means we can report on that being a historical fact.

² When we were less than 10yo (we are not sure about our own age yet but believe it is something around that), we accompanied some of their criminal attacks over human kind and, growing up, we discussed some, contributed somehow (without knowing we were doing that) and suffered entire life from those together with my twin so far (they employed a system of subsequent memory erasure, so that we would think they are normal people and we are living in a normal family almost all the time while we were alert (they put us in phase out quite a lot through the 666s). They let us have a say on how things would go a couple of times and we then asked them to let us know about 'types of crime', so each new crime for them to let us see/know somehow.

Discussions of logical nature with the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members, the top ones here included, usually returned frustration because they stop conversation whenever they lose in argumentation. 'Braganca'/the devil (therefore the top boss of them all, if spirituality is considered) would tell us, when we were still living in Australia, so before 1975 (we apparently moved somewhere in 1974 to Brazil - first to Rio Grande, RS, then to Rio, RJ, then to Porto Alegre, RS, where I usurped the ID of Marcia Ricci Pinheiro, with her being killed in front of me by the devil, what was witnessed by 'Hamish'. The birth certificate brought date of birth as being 06/01/1971, which might be a fix of 'Nelson', like he took a long time to come up with our birth certificate. It was 1974 when we moved out of Australia, I reckon), that all wealth was scarce, in other words, so that there were way more children than the vacancies available in schools⁴. It wouldn't be fair to deprive children from schools, so that they needed to usurp [4] the existences of the children in Australia. I then was less than 5 years old, if 'Nelson's' choices for 'my' date of birth in Brazil, RS, are accurate, but I then said, 'what about the children of Australia? Don't they also need to study?' He then would be silent and stop turning his head to me. We were walking somewhere around Enmore, I reckon. I then would say, 'why can't we build more schools where they are?' He would then say, 'because they don't have money there'. I then would say, 'but there should be other ways to solve this problem, say through governments. This is these children's Country, their people built these schools, so that they have to use these', like, during that conversation I was not allowed to have my memories on regarding what they did, so that I didn't know they had barbarized the USA, where we lived; I didn't even know they were killers and I was not really thinking he was referring to killing Our God's children, like the white Christian native Australian children. He would then show his teeth a little and stop turning his head to me again.

It is then difficult, if not impossible, to find philosophy as Socrates would have shown to us it should be defined [5], involving the deepest clarifying and constructive discussion in the direction of best elaborating notions, labels and terms to be used as staples; placid contemplation proven to be heaven-like through accurate description of events, objects and the nature of individuals, assessment and reassessment of plausibility and prevalence to judge whether a certain idea should be shared with others or further defended; and so on, in anything related to satanism or what could be referred to, in democratic, capitalist, and equality - and freedom - subscribing societies (referring here to the United Nations, Universal Declaration of Human Rights [6]), as crime. If philosophy were practiced as it should be - Socratically, as we have just described - by everyone in society, all societies on earth would be Christian (and thus maximally compliant), democratic, capitalist, subscribers to equality and freedom, and members of the United Nations and the International Criminal Court.

We analyse the actions, spirit and thinking of two followers of satanism, one member of the satanic brotherhood and one member of the satanic sisterhood, and judge them in terms of sanity. We then examine two satanic institutions, the satanic brotherhood and the satanic sisterhood, also in terms of sanity. We intend to defend the thesis that members who are not trying to get out of it are already insane or are on the sure path to becoming insane, and therefore that the progression in degrees of what the religion claims to be freedom is actually the progression in degrees of what everyone else calls insanity.

II. Development

Leinha was a he, let's call her Mister, when she knocked at 'Nelson's' door, entrance of a nice-looking house, located in a sort of rectangle contained in-between buildings/normal constructions whose standard access is through a sort of field of tapped soil, an exotic cleared corner of the streets of Rio, bike path from Tijuca to Flamengo, a place where people of low income accumulate, but exotically a horizontal, clean and non-repulsive place⁵. 'Nelson' had just killed his male cousin from India because he watched him kill their Salvador Al Qaeda

⁴ He was referring to the attacks we had just accompanied to a school in Enmore or nearby, whose brochure someone dropped underneath 'our' door (corner between Lynch Avenue and Edgeware Road, Enmore, Sydney, NSW, house we believe belonged to 'Irene Prince' at that stage but probably belonged to 'Desiderata', perhaps Prince, originally, probably mother of Irene Prince. We accompanied part of the takeover for this house too) parents but did not take part and still denounced him in Salvador, if we understood it well, reason as to why they both ended up at the police station, where this brown fat man, apparently born in Salvador⁶, worked⁷. Upon arriving in Rio, so during their second usurpation in Brazil, perhaps while waiting for the new IDs, the cousin probably insisted that he did not want to take part into any crime, and that is then the real reason for 'Nelson' to kill him. He found it weird that someone would 'dare' knocking at his door but he decided to answer even so. Mister had found out there was a new male on the block, so that he decided to say hello. 'Nelson' was initially a bit shut, not wanting conversation, but Mister insisted and he then decided to let him in. From there, he probably told Mister all that happened and Mister was not in shock, so that he decided that he could be the replacement of his cousin. We imagine that is when Mister gets to know he also killed his parents in India and the Al Qaeda parents in Salvador. Perhaps he also told Mister about his Indian parents being a result of an Al Qaeda action instead of his biological parents. He then probably introduced Mister to satanism and told him to also kill his parents before they proceeded to India so that he could join the religion. He probably explained that the parents get replaced by Al Qaeda so that, effectively, for society and this world, nothing wrong has happened and therefore Mister would not receive any punishment for such criminal actions. He himself was very happy with Mister joining because he needed someone to usurp the ID of his cousin so that nobody in India would know what he did when he returned. Since Leinha also had Al Qaeda parents (originally born in India), we imagine 'Nelson' did some research with Al Qaeda to have that truth revealed to Leinha and make things easier when it came to getting Leinha (who was still a 'he') to kill his own parents.

'Nelson' was marked as psychopath in India after sitting for an exam elaborated by Americans, which India had started applying to its secondary students. That meant he could not work anywhere there for life. He then gets home and, more than likely, his mother lets him know the couple usurped and that is how they ended up figuring as his parents, so that he can use the same thing to get rid of the label and situation. She then tells him where he can find 'Osama'/our Al Qaeda uncle, who helps with this 'sort of thing'. He then goes to the CBD and finds him in the ways the Al Qaeda mother described. It is weird that the mother⁸ would not know that could lead to their death (hers and her 'husband's') but we then theorize she thought the usurpations had been provided by Al Qaeda, not by the satanic brotherhood or sisterhood, so that she was told it was just about usurping, while 'Nelson', always having an inquisitive mind, would have asked about more and more details, when 'Osama' then decided to tell him also about the satanic brotherhood, probably because he revealed how shocked and traumatized he was with being told his parents, who he knew that far as biological, were Al Qaeda parents and had either killed or condoned the killing of others, and subsequently stolen their existences.

'Nelson' received the following premises in his spirit/mind:

- 1) You cannot get a job where you were born and live for life;
- 2) There is no Centrelink and therefore you will have to depend on others until you die;
- 3) Your parents are serious marginals and you don't have their genes;

⁷ This man got offered usurpation in Australia by Al Qaeda, which was the brand the satanic brotherhood was using back then, during this attack, this in exchange for him not to arrest or record them as perpetrators and he accepted that. It seems to us that the cousin opened his mouth and told him all (he was then yelling for help, we reckon) but, instead of helping, and stopping all by there, he got curious and, upon finding out about things, decided that he also wanted to do it. He became an employee of the Redcross and later on of an employment agency in Australia, where we found him during the 'kingdom of the third 666 in our heads', like he was our agent there. We reckon this employment agency was in Redfern and we even helped producing their newsletter for a time: a wonderful experience, since we wrote about science on every issue (sometimes we did more than that, such as revising it or writing about other things on top). It was perhaps located on the block right behind the police station, inside of a building.

⁸ Yet a natural woman could only have been approached by an actor who were not the satanic brotherhood or sisterhood when it comes to usurpation, since both brotherhood and sisterhood only accept those who are originally black African men or men of black African descent as members

- 4) You can acquire a new life in another Country or even in your own Country by joining Al Qaeda and practicing usurpation, which will allow you to finally have a job;
- 5) If you think 'Osama' is a good friend, you are invited to join the satanic brotherhood, on top of Al Qaeda, and get him as a friend for life together with many other black males like yourself; and
- 6) To join the brotherhood, the first step is killing your parents, but they do that for ages, your parents get replaced, and nobody in your society will even notice something atypical has happened plus your Al Qaeda parents would have done that themselves or got given IDs after that was done to the previous holders of your parents' IDs.

He puts 1-6 together and decides for joining Al Qaeda and the brotherhood. The question then becomes: was that a rational decision? Was it logical? We know it denotes absurd levels of absence of scruples but the focus lies elsewhere, so please let's not go there.

The item no. 5 seems to be an emotional item: that implies he liked 'Osama' on a personal level. Yet they would have connected at most intellectually [7], so through the mind. From [7]: "Some people naturally gravitate towards intellectual connections. They thrive on debates, love learning new things, and get a kick out of solving complex problems. Others are more drawn to emotional connections, valuing deep empathy, intuitive understanding, and emotional resonance. But it's not just about personal preference. Cultural and societal factors also play a significant role in shaping our connection styles. Some cultures place a high value on emotional expression and connection, while others prioritize intellectual pursuits and logical thinking." From here, we conclude that it was the upbringing that made 'Nelson' prioritize intellectual connections: we theorize that the Al Qaeda parents would always have made intellect/logic be their bond, since they couldn't possibly connect for real⁹ to anyone else before usurping, which can only be the reason to usurp.

If a person is forced, for some reason, to contemplate in a placid way the human existence of another person, say they are stuck with it, and the individual who is contemplated starts sharing their reasons for actions/thoughts/choices, and the person really listens to them and assimilates, they end up loving that individual in a Christian way because they end up acknowledging the subtleties that make of that creature of similar nature someone unique and, by the moment that distinction is made in the brain, that that is another creature, completely different and unique, of the same type (human), the individual is unable to have anything but respect for that individuality, what makes them refrain from thinking of harming that person.

I know that because the will of killing also came to my spirit at a certain stage: Leinha used to not take time to converse or interact with any of us, so both with 'Lea Maria' and me, who shared an apartment with her. She would be just using the facilities and would not even say hi to us or anything, arriving very late and leaving when we were not around. She was always coming across as disturbance, aggression and violence. One night, she arrived really late and, as always, had no respect for anyone, so that she had a shower, despite the advanced hour, made a lot of noise, waking us up, and left her bedroom door open, following that with loud snoring (like a pig from hell). My bedroom was next to hers and that sort of thing was routine. I had to wake up early for school and could not sleep with her making those noises. 'Lea Maria' was always complaining about her. I then went to her bedroom to think about what I could do to stop her snoring: I saw her head fully outside of the frame of the bed, like she had the entire neck out with the head, was sleeping in a way I never imagined a human being could. I then immediately thought of grabbing the encyclopaedia 'Braganca' had gifted me with, a Baden, which I didn't like, thought was good for very little (had very little actual information), if anything, and dropping a few volumes over her head, which I calculated would break her neck and therefore kill her. I thought I could do it and the only thing that really stopped me was the possible sadness of 'Lea Maria', 'my' 'mother', but I would also be in trouble with the law. My Al Qaeda relatives probably noticed what happened because she then changed: after that night, she started taking me out with her, forcing me to her company, and explaining things to me a little, so, for instance, she would take me to a cake shop and let me know that she was taking me there because that was a special place for her. She said they had the best cakes ever (and I saw that was indeed true). She would take me for a bike ride and would instruct me on how I should accompany her body moves with my own body and keep it close to her body and she would then explain to me why that had to be: that we had to be like one in order for the bike to go smoothly. That sort of thing, already on the first one, made me finally draw a distinction between her and me, like I thought of killing her when I was seeing her as part of me, believing she was a monster, and I would then destroy myself/kill myself if I were like that. When she started explaining those things to me, I started seeing differences between me and her, so also between my body and hers: I didn't appreciate cake, but she did (Yet I had to agree with her: that was the best cake in the world!). She liked bike riding and I had horror of motorcycles: I never understood why a person would choose one of those and expose themselves to harm on a voluntary basis if they could have proper protection against weather, other vehicles, the road, comfort for passengers and themselves instead. Yet she liked it: that gave her

⁹ So love in a Christian way, like we have 'connect to others', which implies some level of alignment of spirit or mind, and we have 'connect to others for real', which implies loving the other in a Christian way, so feel actual friendship for the other, to the point of helping them with their needs and wants, paying attention to the least evident traits of their being, having them doing the same and so on a sense of power, she would have explained, if I remember well. Well, that I didn't want to have in life, so that she was different from me.

It is then the forced acknowledgement of the other as something special and different from us that makes us draw the boundaries and start respecting their existence, therefore not having will of harming them anymore. Of course, that learned distinction is lost again if I perceive her as someone who is intentionally destroying my only body or life or reasons to live when she has a choice (if she doesn't, then that distinction may still remain in the spirit), since I then see her as a cancer or a bacteria or a virus/disease again and therefore something or some entity that should be exterminated and is part of me somehow (in the examples mentioned, part of my own body), which then gives me the rights to exterminate her, as for spiritual understanding.

In this case, we believe 'Nelson's' Al Qaeda parents always tried to make conversations about facts, ideas and other abstract things when they interacted with him instead of presenting reasons for their actions/thoughts/choices and making him accompany them in separate (just the mother or just the father) when they were doing things, so that we believe they never made him accompany his mother to a supermarket, just the two of them, with the mother saying, 'I always have to enter through this particular door; otherwise, my feet hit the poles', or 'this apple is better because we can tell the flavour of the apple by the color and the rigidity when we squeeze it and this one is firm, you see', etc. If she had done that, 'Nelson' would have understood her reasons to act and move like that, to buy the 'gala' apple, etc., and that would have forced 'Nelson' to acknowledge her as something distinct from him, yet of the same type, which would stop him from thinking that he could take her life if she were on the way to his progress, like she wasn't intentionally destroying his only body or life or reasons to live when she had a choice and therefore he would not see her as a part of his own body, a cancer that has to be removed at any expense. The satanic put things such as 'we all share one body' [8] (host time in the mass) or 'we, all together, are one body, the body of Christ' [9] in the rites of the Christian churches¹⁰: That is clearly rhetoric intended to make our spirit perceive others as part of our own bodies, therefore as our ultra-personal and exclusive domain. This is then brainwashing with the idea that there is no distinction between one person and another and therefore we can kill/destroy the other in any way we wish as we would do to a cancer/disease.

'It is rational to use our emotions to make decisions' [10] and we would then like to state that 'Nelson' connected more to 'Osama' than he ever connected to his Al Qaeda parents instantaneously because 'Osama' spoke about what he felt in a rational way, he was able to explain the rationality behind his own feelings ('Nelson's') of unrest to him (to 'Nelson'), yet his Al Qaeda parents never touched that area neither in respect to themselves nor in respect to him. Even though that is not seen as emotional connection, it should be seen as the closest possible thing to that for this sort of person, whose upbringing was exclusively of 'intellectual type'.

There is also the mandatory gratitude that is missing: 'Nelson' should think he owes something to his Al Qaeda parents even if they are not his biological parents, like they paid his bills, provided food, put him to study and so on. Yet, if his spirit does not acknowledge the essential difference between his person and body and theirs, his spirit would perceive their efforts as his own efforts to survive, so perhaps he would see, in his spirit, their arms as being his arms collecting the fruit from the tree instead. For the efforts/labor/sacrifices of his Al Qaeda parents to be recognized, he needs to perceive those things as coming from someone else and we then believe that is the root of all trouble: the spiritual incapacity to draw the line.

We have to be taught contemplation: 'Lea Maria' taught me how to contemplate, so that she would frequently tell me about her observations regarding others, say, "'Clara' has lots of problems with her dogs: the other day she hurt her foot kicking two of them from below to stop their fight'. She would then describe the details of the fight, how 'Clara' would have positioned her foot and what effect that had on the dogs, since I would then ask questions as well. Sometimes she would reproduce the scene with her own body or tell me to try to do it. Those little remarks had the effect of making me think about 'Clara' as a person who was very different from me, and even her: 'Clara' had problems with her dogs and even got hurt trying to split them. Now, in my head, 'Clara' was a person, had become someone. Yet, before 'Lea Maria' said that, I never had not even consciously acknowledged the name of that female, despite having been to her house and all else.

'Lea Maria' painted and she even copied a few famous paintings, so falsified, to help the satanic perpetrate their attacks. Painting copying does require a lot of attention to details, including facial expressions of humans. I think that sort of activity helps. Learning about education, human rights, crime, history, and the appreciation of the arts helps us pay attention to the subtleties of each individual human being and therefore recognize the differences between human beings in general. People usually think that the thing is making us feel equal and they keep on brainwashing us with that message: that is a horrible mistake. The right idea is that of diversity and multiculturalism (it actually came from my head, I think someone took it from me, and since then they started worrying about this in Australia to maximum degree), studying to maximum all characteristics that differentiate peoples, races, genders and so on. It is by the delicate study of each one of the differences that we help pave our way to heavens: the learning of details, never through massification or brainwashing, as those are opposite forces.

It is important to ask students to write about their relatives and other people individually. For example, start with the mother: write about what she likes doing and why, what she doesn't like doing and why, and so on. This way, the school helps the individual acknowledge the wealth of uniqueness in others.

This all connects to the 'second-person model of empathy' [11]: "In the second-person model, empathy is seen as a shared experience, rooted in the immediacy of face-to-face interactions. It highlights the importance of embodied and expressive cues, such as gestures, tone, and context, in fostering understanding. This model aligns with phenomenological perspectives, which argue that we perceive others as expressive, unified beings rather than isolated minds." (Co-pilot)

We just add that the person must converse with the other, explain their actions/thinking/choices as much and as frequently as possible, and ensure the other assimilates those explanations to foster empathy. The more they do that the more empathy increases. While it was previously thought that empathy is perceiving the other as a continuation of ourselves - basically finding the other inside of us¹¹ - we have concluded that empathy is actually acquiring the spiritual understanding of how different the other is yet rationally acknowledging them as a being of 'the same type'. In essence, it is about finding the other inside of themselves by making our spirit merge with theirs and then extracting the essence of their feelings together with the rationality involved, thus creating a set of coordinates (rational references, spiritual vibration, relationship that the observed holds with us, their name) that will form a psyche address¹² to which we can refer to whenever seeing that same individual facing the same sort of situation, so say death of a person who is close to them and is thought to be a resurrected person, again. Perhaps what is currently seen as empathy would better be described by the Portuguese word 'simpatia'¹³, since that is finding the feeling of the other inside of us somehow, so the same type of moment in our memory records and our own feelings regarding that particular moment instead.

We then conclude that 'Nelson' never matured in his understanding of humanity or this world, since he sees the other human beings as a continuation of his own body, as explained before. Yet, when he conversed with us, Twins of God, and we were able to tell him the rationality behind our feelings and assertions as well as beliefs, and those conflicted with his, but, even so, he did listen and reflect about all that, he was finally able to acknowledge our bodies as different from his own and therefore we were cancer no more.

Even so, he kept on perpetrating all atrocities that the satanic brotherhood assigned to him or he assigned to himself in order to make the institution keep on progressing in the direction of their objectives, so not yet being able to see the bodies of other human beings that be not us as distinct from his own: still seeing them as a cancer on his own body. That means he remained immature in his psyche. That obviously means insanity: it is like keeping the psyche of the baby, since the baby doesn't see any difference between the milk bottle or his mother's breast and his own body for as long as they are connected to those [18].

One of the members of the cluster of violators that attack us via voice torture 24/7 for 3 months plus and 16/7 for 3 years before that, together with several other things, such as attack to physical parts of our body (all through the 666), such as belly (they stretched the skin of the belly in different places each time creating

¹² In [14], we talk a little about our new model of human psyche and add to it. Yet, there is plenty more that needs to be added and we need to be able to put it all together nicely, but here we have one more detail involving this so fascinating item of study, so the possibility of referring to an address, probably located in the superego, since that is going to censor our communications with that particular person. Say that now is a moment of death of a flatmate: we then think of saying 'life is like that' but the superego pops in and tells us not to say that because they actually believe that the person is a resurrected person and therefore their life should be about death already and they are actually astonished and confused because the flatmate was not supposed to ever have died. That connection between thinking that they are a resurrected person and experiencing conflict was inserted as a point in the database of our superego with coordinates ('they are a resurrected person', conflict of highest order (which leads to them vomiting and having spasms if we insist with the idea that they were alive), friend, Mr. X)

¹³ From [15], the world reference [16] that most aligns with the popular definition of 'simpatia' in Brazil is 'acordo, identificação ou fusão de sentimentos e interesses; afinidade; comunhão', that is, being able to locate a situation of same type in our memory records and then remember how we felt, then assuming that they feel in the same way we felt back then. The dictionary mentions 'afinidade', which is affinity, that is, compatibility [17], which means we can only feel the same we would feel ourselves in the face of that type of situation, which may not be the same as THEY feel when they are the ones facing the situation layers of stretched skin) and hips (they seem to have broken the bones of the hips in order to destroy the curves that are so typical of women in that area), upon reading from my thinking what I was typing, then said: 'so, for 'Nelson' not to kill me, all I have to do is conversing with him and making him understand how my rationality connects to my actions?' I then answered, 'no, since that reasoning only applies to innocent/compliant victims. 'You have sinned', as they say, which basically means you have committed crime at what you believe is your own initiative. In that case, he has a stronger rule over that relationship, which overwrites the differentiation rule, which is 'if you sinned, we can do anything to you', so that that sort of thing won't help you save your life'.

'Nelson' usually gets his victims bugged by someone else (another brotherhood, or even a sisterhood, member) and, after that, he, with a certain frequency, 'moves them in full' following death scripts created by him or other satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members. In this way, he never gets to acknowledge the difference between their bodies and his, what, in his spirit, makes the homicides and other criminal actions licit, allowing him to live with no remorse after that.

We must observe that 'Nelson' is OK with following those scripts himself, even if it is as an unseen agent, such as when of the execution of the death script of Dmitry and Nathalia (Attachment no. 1). We imagine he was always playing a role in the script we just mentioned: he would have taken the pictures, he would have moved the victims' bodies (in phase out) by hand, he would have put the body pieces in the pots where they were found and so on, and that basically means the death script would have a line, perhaps in-between-brackets, saying something like, now 'Nelson' moves Dmitry to point X and Nathalia to point Y of the room, turns them on (takes them out of the phase out) and takes a picture of both. In being a continuation of his own body, they are just like his arms as he moves them.

Once he cut off both lower legs of a victim in front of me (I was less than 5 years old, as for their imagination, since I myself cannot tell my actual age). This victim had initially accepted usurping with his cousin, both from Brazil, perhaps South. He then later on changed his mind and told 'Nelson' that he did. When he changes his mind, he could tell 'Nelson' that the reason was that he now doesn't think this is right, perhaps he never really wanted. Yet the fact that he had accepted doing it before that moment means he should need more justification to become 'someone' (in 'Nelson's' spirit), we believe, like more reasons for the change of 'heart' should be presented for 'Nelson' to be able to acknowledge him as another individual. The own 'Nelson', if changing his opinion about the pertinence to the brotherhood, knows he would lose his life for them, so that, by doing that to him, he is doing that to his own body cancer once more. There had to be a divergence in reasoning—something that made it possible for him to leave the brotherhood, if that makes sense. This was necessary for him to be able to forgive the fellow. We believe that he was also following a death script as he cut his lower legs off, since he does kill the man later on, like after deep and continuous suffering is imposed to him for a few days or weeks.

We believe Leinha goes through the same mental/emotional/spiritual processes as 'Nelson', just that, in her case, instead of 'Osama', it is 'Nelson' who creates the intellectual connection with her. On one occasion, of the attack perpetrated in Brisbane, in a beach whose access is made via steep descent, where I was accompanying her and 'Lea Maria', they go asking me for reasons to kill without me noticing, like they were basically requesting that I gave them death script lines (they had already organized the attack, all planned, but these lines were missed at that stage). Perhaps they were actually asking what could be the reason for a person to hate people who are entertaining themselves at the beach. I said, 'I don't know, why would you hate them if they were entertaining themselves at the beach?' 'Lea Maria' then would be quiet, like 'Braganca' during the conversation about schools. We believe they wanted to give us something to entertain ourselves by uttering those lines, like they then say, 'having fun' to one of them as they give their victims chin knocks while making me walk next to them (Attachment no. 2).

Those victims were either entirely moved—so even their presence at the beach is attributed to the satanic sisterhood (as they are both satanic transgenders [29])—or there was no chance for interaction between them and the victims before the fatal chin knock occurred. In both cases, through the same processes—those of non-differentiation—things are made licit in their spirit, which calms the mind.

The moto of satanism is 'inflicting injury, pain and suffering on human kind', so that they are responsible, among many others, for usurping the existence of compliant and Christian¹⁴ Hitler and starting the Nazi Party through changing the name of his party plus making the perpetration of all those atrocities possible/ordering them [19]. On that occasion, we believe they were giving justice to the white Phoenicians - who, more than likely, formed the bunch of Moses, since the supposed Jews (there were never such a people, those were the black Africans who usurped the existences of the white Phoenicians who were in slavery in Egypt before Moses led them to the Red Sea, whose name was not Red Sea until the black Africans decide to observe what happened to the white Phoenicians they forced to suicide and noticed that the sea water had gone red, when they then decide to give the name to that sea based on that) were actually black Africans escaping slavery in Egypt who decided to usurp their lives [20] - and Our Jesus, Our Savior and Commander, only heavenly helper of human kind in their path to the Elohim Planet/paradise, since they had usurped the existence of Caiaphas and as many as the satanic Caiaphas needed from the sanhedrin [21] (the satanic had executed delicate plot to end up having that situation, of the local people being judged by what the local people saw as rejected members of their society that far: they joined forces with an Italian section of their group, who then taught the Romans Latin and made the Romans attack that area, take over, when they managed to guarantee that Jesus would be judged in Latin, not in the local language, and they would be the ones judging through a special court, away from the public, when they would then succeed in condemning Christ. The general public would only see Our Jesus and Lord during the Grace Day choice time, when deciding which prisoners would be released by the grace of the people. The presentation would be conducted entirely in Latin, not their local language, and without an interpreter for the local language. They also replaced Longinus, who was, more than likely, a top Christian, and they then got the satanic Longinus to injure Jesus to maximum all the way through, in that including the satanic Longinus piercing Our Jesus' side (Attachment no. 3). We believe the satanic brotherhood raped Jesus after death, consumed his flesh and drank his blood (that being the reason as to why they say that sort of atrocity in the Christian mass: not only that Our Jesus told us to eat his body and drink his blood, but that we are happy taking those through the hosts and wine they serve) and, after all that, they replaced Our Savior with a cluster of multiples, one of them going to Rome and figuring as Christus¹⁵ [23] and another one of them forming a group of satanic members who would claim to be apostles (Jesus never had apostles, he had followers, plenty, instead) and so on. At that height, they had already managed to invent the so-called 'holy' books - that far all resuming to one, the Judaic [21] - and perpetrate a series of atrocities against the followers of Our God - the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob - such as having those repeating that Our God's name is Yahweh, which, in the language they invented, a corruption of Phoenician with Arabic and Egyptian, as for our best guesses, which they called Aramaic and, later on, Hebrew, would mean installing a hook on a window [20]. They were then killing their own race, the black Africans, just that they had been changed into white by means of the 666 at that height (Attachment no. 6). Jesus actually dealt most of the time during his life with the Arabs and we believe his parents were not called Mary and Joseph: they had Arabic names instead. They were also not Jews, since they were both originally white. The Arabs gave Jesus Christ a wonderful name: "Īsā al-Masīḥ, or Jesus, the Messiah, or Jesus, the annointed one" (Attachment no. 7). Muhammad (spelling given by Co-pilot) was devoted to Christ and Our God but got killed and replaced by the satanic brotherhood, when they were able to create also Islam (Attachment no. 7), through which 1.02 billion women are kept in legal slavery nowadays (figure attained by Co-pilot: "To calculate the total number of women in Islamic countries in 2025, we need the total population of these countries and an estimate of the gender distribution. Typically, the global gender ratio is close to 50:50, so we can assume women make up about half of the population. From my search, the global Muslim population in 2025 is estimated to be over 2.04 billion. If we assume that women constitute approximately 50% of this population, the number of women in Islamic countries would be around 1.02 billion"), about 18 million just in Saudi Arabia [25], what now happens for about 1,500 years (the Islamic bible started being written in 610 CE [21]) while the slavery of black Africans in white countries went for at most 400 years [26] and, in many places, if not in all, they only had their original freedom, given by Our God to each one of us by birth, restored because of women, such as Princess Isabel, in Brazil [27] (She replaced her father three times as regent, but it was only on the third occasion, when her father was in the hospital, that she realized he was going to die. She then dared to act against his will, which was obviously in the opposite direction. Only after his death did she officially become regent, but by then, she had already abolished slavery in 1888).

¹⁴ Hitler was baptized and raised in the Catholic Church and his mother was Catholic, according to Co-pilot, plus his concerns were highest with fairness in society and he was worried about labourers in most Christian way as possible before being cowardly murdered by the satanic brotherhood [19]

To judge whether the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood is an insane institution, we have to resort to its provenance and the satanic bible, which is the bible containing its principles, rites, degrees of pertinence and others. The satanic bible would talk about the 33 degrees of pertinence to the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood or the 33 degrees of freedom in satanism [20]. Its theory is that black African men, whether born in Africa or descended from African ancestry, are of opposite nature to the beings who are part of heavens (the Elohim) but they have their souls brainwashed by Jesus (and, before Jesus was born on earth, Our God), Our Lord and Commander, so that they are forced to be Christian-like creatures, which means Our God basically enslaves (by inserting a soul in them) and brainwashes them (by inserting the equivalent to a computer code in their soul), so that Our God is not better than the Egyptians, who used to buy them from the Nubians as slaves, or the Nubians, who used to enslave, brainwash and sell the own Nubians to Egypt by the time of Moses.

¹⁵ 'Braganca'/the devil told us about this one: Christ in Rome after death/supposed resurrection, so that we are sure (we first guessed then the satanic let us have a glimpse of our memory token), despite what the source we selected and other relevant sources state. Please remember the satanic brotherhood had arms in Latium in Italy and it was from there that they succeeded in making the Roman Empire adopt the Latin language as their own and moved them to taking over the area where Jesus Christ, Our Lord, would later on inhabit/exist in flesh, so that they do control all sources human kind relies on so far on top of the mind and existence of quite a few academics and therefore they dictate what narrative will be supported. That will go on until we start the execution of Our Plan. Things should get much better after we have Our God's Brainwashing going.

The satanic brotherhood/sisterhood then claims it is doing the impossible to free the black African men or their male black descendants, therefore make them recover their original nature, and that, since the 666 was invented (maximum time is the end of slavery in Brazil, so 1888 [27]), means that it inserts a head implant in their brains (enslaves them through a mechanical device: members can never get rid of or manage it themselves) and programs it with instructions that nullify the instructions from heavens/the Elohim [12]. The black African male must first kill his parents to then acquire the first degree of freedom from the brotherhood/sisterhood [1]. If anyone hears about such a thing, so the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood, and doesn't join, they must be killed, so that nobody finds out about them. If anyone joins and wishes for leaving later on, they must also be killed, for the same reason. Members that feel any type of start of love for their spouse must kill the spouse and perpetrate a satanic rite as they do it, so that members are absolutely forbidden from actually loving or even feel empathy for women. 'All you can do is crime' is a staple sentence in the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood, so that members are advised not to be altruistic with anyone. They are supposed to usurp anything and anyone as much as possible. For instance, they must usurp the effects of the feeling of love from the spouse, which means that the 'wife' would prepare a special meal for them on a particular day, but they would not show gratitude to 'her' of any kind—no greater displays of affection, no kind words, or anything like that. They are also never supposed to return gestures like that, since they are supposed to just take/usurp. If they are still interested in a 'woman' and she wants to leave them for some reason, they must kill her, but they can let her go if they have lost interest in the 'woman'. They are supposed to be the king of the house, so they won't join the 'woman' in her programs unless they have lateral interests—never simply to keep 'her' company, and nothing more. If they feel forced to do something with the spouse, to make her company, they then take revenge during the event to make it clearer that they must command everything¹⁶. Members are obliged to take part into ritualistic rape, for instance of the children of couples who have just usurped¹⁷. Members are obliged to accept 'the scramble rule': if they ever have natural kids, then those are swapped by birth with kids from someone else. Members are obliged to never say anything against the black African people or support any thought or idea that goes against their superiority in all regards (like also there is no greater atrocity perpetrated by humans than those perpetrated against them, Holocaust ([28], now we know it was them who died too) and black African slavery included). Members are obliged to accept having sex with both genders. Members figuring as men are supposed to promote the satanic transgenders in all they do, so only pay compliments to those if there is an actual woman and them being compared for some reason. Members are supposed to promote only masculine values and males or satanic transgenders/satanic sisterhood members. Members are obliged to consume human flesh and drink human blood from a certain time onward. Members are supposed to promote everything that there is in Africa, including natural looks of peoples, art and common practices. Members can never become Christian or follow any philosophy that implies love instead of hate, therefore they can never ¹⁶ 'Bradley Paul Neal' once made me company because I wanted to attend a 'Copacabana' event (establishment in Melbourne, Victoria). I determined that we were going in my car (I had a car of the year, which I had purchased with the money from my Brazilian car), so that I was the provider, and he was going with me, like it was 'my' program. I had decided to take a fellow from work with us, a woman called 'Julie', PhD student of 'Bill Blyth' at RMIT, so that I was driving and therefore 'running the show', like for the first time ever (our story is a bit complex, since I was given to him as sex slave (by Leinha, who, with 'Nicole Kidman', split me from my Our God's Coupleship partner, my twin, with 'Nicole's' multiples cluster then getting my twin while 'Bradley' got me) when I was little but they erased that from my mind growing up and I thought I had met him for the first time in Melbourne in 2001 until I recover my memories in 2020), and he decided to go with me solely because we were living apart and he had made a lot of effort to get me back, even proposing in a cinematographic way in a pizza shop for that purpose. Almost as soon as 'Julie' enters my car, he engages in basically private conversation with her with me there, like he was obviously in 'attack/reaction mode', which they are instructed to enter when this type of situation arises. Members then actually always betray in that mode, so that he did engage in sexual activity with 'Julie' later on.

change their spiritual inclination. Since satan can only work for hell, he is under the devil and therefore adheres to his maxim: cheating, lying, and deceiving in every possible way. Members are strongly advised to absolutely never contribute in a meaningful way to the life of anyone who be not part of the brotherhood/sisterhood or give them wisdom, knowledge or information. Each degree they add to their pertinence to the institution represents more abilities and capabilities¹⁸ in terms of crime/violence/expression of hate for places, peoples and cultures, including African (see examples in the attachments, from 8 to 12 of what probably gets classified as first degree members' actions. Attachment no. 13 shows what should probably deserve a higher degree, since it involves ability to manage airplane crashes, create scripts, appear in person at the event and leave after perpetrating in person with witnesses kept alive, etc.).

What would insanity mean in what comes to institutions? Probably having the institution perform actions that directly contradict its purposes or its printed set of rules (such as the satanic bible). In this regard, observe that even though the institution promises to help the individual become freer/more joyful (everyone associates freedom with joy ([37]-[39]), they are now, after joining, more enslaved than ever: Not only do they still possess the soul Our Good Lord put in them, they still have the potential heavenly brainwashing within that soul - however with instructions that even the satanic admit make them comply and have positive feelings for humanity and this world - but they still have a mechanical soul (666) that is now a physical object in their brain (when the heavenly soul isn't) through which anyone can insert any instruction (including good ones), the original intention being that those instructions be in the demoniac direction or make them have negative feelings for humanity and this world, which should 'move' them in a way that they perpetrate, therefore injure society and this world. Anyone using this mechanical soul can destroy any part of their body, simulate any disease or create diseases, kill them in several ways (including by giving them heard stroke), make them go through public humiliation and shame to highest degree (like they did to 'Mert Ney' [30]), etc. Since anyone controlling their bug can do anything, even assuming they trust the top boss of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood (they organize themselves in pyramid, which means there is always only one at the very top) in full, it is possible that someone hacks the bug of the top boss and moves the top boss, which means that that person can perpetrate any amount of atrocities against them. Besides, while the brainwashing of Our God is only a possibility, the brainwashing of the satanic sisterhood/brotherhood is a fact and the individual is forced to multiple things - we counted at least 15 things whoever joins is obliged to do for life when considering the so little we know for sure about the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood - while Our God would at most have inserted healthy principles to make life in society something rational, never really forcing anyone to anything. Just the fact that the individual is forever deprived from the chance of loving another to maximum allowed by the human body and spirit means highest restriction on freedom, but there is still the eternal deprivation of raising own kids or changing spiritual preferences. If the member realizes Our God and Our Savior are real and that paradise has always been accessible to him, with a place reserved there by Our God from the moment his soul was created, and he then desires to follow Our God and Our Savior, thus pursuing his path to paradise, he cannot, as doing so would cost him his life. This means he is deprived of the freedom of choice in what matters most to humankind—if it is true that there is life after death, and we are here, among other reasons, to bear witness to that truth. If there is any chance the individual does not want to kill his own parents, so say he is grateful for his genes, for being alive and so on, he is obliged to do that, for now he heard about the brotherhood/sisterhood literally from hell and, if he does not go ahead with his degrees of pertinence path, they will kill him. Stopping by here, even though there is way more, we already have 4 things that will condemn the individual to eternal pain and suffering if, at any stage, he starts feeling the will of really locking hearts with someone, or the will of having contact with the representatives of his genes on earth, or the will of changing his spiritual preferences, or the will of keeping in touch with his parents until the day they die of old age, so that effectively the individual enters hell at most when one of those things happen in their lives. Wouldn't experiencing hell on earth be slavery per se? Wouldn't having a mechanical device/soul in the brain through which unknown programming (which has potential to change our choice of actions and thinking even to the extreme opposite to what is natural in us) is inserted be slavery per se? If even our instincts, mood and personality can be manipulated via mechanical soul, doesn't that mean we became robots at the moment the 666 was inserted in our brain? Wouldn't robots be lowest-ranked slaves, who work 24/7 (the satanic use our brains, of the Twins of God, since almost our birth 24/7) without pay or any understanding of what they are doing and to/for whom, essentially regarded as nothing more than a mere 'body' by their 'master,' programmer, or owner? Wouldn't it be true that joining the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood implies that the person goes from potential highest-ranked slave of the Elohim, therefore of highly superior creatures (and a group, several of them, where all members always act only after discussing among themselves being the most enlightened/wisest and having equal power, what has to imply absolutely best decisions regarding our existences whenever our opinion cannot be heard), especially in terms of wisdom/knowledge/information/insight, to actual lowest-ranked slave of the satanic, therefore highly inferior creatures (doing what the most animal-like beings do, therefore beings whose type never evolved (and doesn't show any possibility of evolving either, entire world history) in the direction of wisdom, not even civilization (like we can never refer to the civilization of the dogs, since they never built/made anything)), and still of only one of those in practice (the devil's things have to always be pyramids, so power structures where all follow only one deity, who may decide on its own and frequently does that, this because of the irrationality involved in all that is rhetoric (Attachment no. 14)), usually the one that is the closest thing to all the most irrational/incapable of 'conversation/interaction' with any other being, including themselves (so the king of all, like the satanic invented the lion is in what regards the animals ([40], not true at all: several animals predate on them and don't have minimum respect, such as the crocodiles and sharks) or perhaps the reptile is in what regards all modern types of beings (yet notice that humans found ways of even mass exterminating crocodiles, say poisoning their water, and also managing them, actually putting them even in parks for everyone to see them in the most inferior situation of all, that of 'entire life in display, including most intimate moments', with its domain reduced to a tiny fraction of the natural domain, and in display to any being of our type [41]. The satanic hang on to the 'reptilians', which they invented is a race of aliens that resemble those [42], so that 'Taylor Swift' is supposed to have acquired their status, like she would have become the 'same as one of their kind', therefore king/'queen' of humanity (Attachment nos. 14 and 15). Notice here that the black African male or black African descent will then unavoidably have worst decisions as possible, since they are the least refined in reasoning/logic - closest to the animals and creatures, regarding our existences whenever our opinion cannot be heard, that implying that they frequently end up with decisions of the type killing, diseasing or impairing/disabling the individual (as in the case involving 'Nelson' and the individual who gives up on usurping, case we mentioned here earlier on, or as in the case involving 'Mert Ney' and 'Nelson' [30], or as in the case involving 'Hyperides' and 'Maria Ribeiro Ricci', where he partially impairs her lower legs (told here earlier), or in the case involving Leinha and 'Braganca'¹⁹/the devil plus the devil's femur²⁰, or in the case involving Leinha and 'Hermolga Ricci de Oliveira'²¹ or in the case involving 'Hyperides' and 'Nelson'²²)?

¹⁹ Whenever I say 'Braganca'/the devil in my writings, it is 'Jayme Braganca Pinheiro', my Al Qaeda father, who married 'Lea Maria Ricci Pinheiro', my Al Qaeda mother, and she divorced him at a certain height, then becoming 'Lea Maria Ricci'. She became a psychologist accredited with the government in Brazil after attending the Universidade Santa Ursula and she worked at Vila Serena as a psychologist at a certain stage of her life but also at Pousada do Galo Vermelho (south of Brazil) as a manager long time before that ²⁰ Notice that the devil was second in Al Qaeda, top of the satanic brotherhood and still figured as Leinha's father in the usurpation in Brazil, usurpation we were still living by the time she did this to him: she told me she thought he was too quick, so perhaps he was perpetrating more than her or something. She had bugged us all with the bug she got following my 'advice' (all given to me as a logical challenge, nothing to do with crime), so that I got a third bug in my head and 'Braganca'/'my' Al Qaeda father, got what should be at least his second. She then made him weak on one of the femurs of one of his legs, as the mercenaries she commands (through 'Monica Pereira', her satanic transgender who got them in my head), a bunch of black African males or black African descents figuring as mulattos and born in Rio de Janeiro, did to both femurs of mine recently through a technique that seems to be continuously producing slides. displacements using the bug, and have a single fall while standing with open legs over his 'vespa' (type of motorcycle) in a gas station, when either she moved the femur to full disconnection or it got moved by the fall and that caused him to have to replace the head of the femur, acquiring a metallic head, which, according to him, made movement something more complicated, like he claimed to have to warm up the metal to be able to start movement, for instance.

²² 'Hyperides' is a top Al Qaeda and satanic brotherhood member. 'Nelson' made his hands appear to copy the claws of the crabs, according to him to show to others that 'Hyperides' was a cannibal (of course 'Hyperides' was never told or consulted). 'Hyperides' did consume human flesh of the Indian woman who figured as education minister (or equivalent) in India while in an airplane with 'Ilda Terezinha Ziglia', my Al Qaeda aunt, probably still black back then, since she was going to use the woman's return flight to come back to India already as if she were her, so already usurping: he ate the parts that could identify the woman, so fingers, perhaps eyes and so on, episode described as huge mess in the press (reckon it was a Lufthansa flight, if I remember well, like I was able to locate the article during this incarnation of ours: the press then said the airplane had the remains of the lady in the luggage compartment (they managed to invade it during the flight, both of them, and they killed her there plus ate her pieces). I have the impression that was soon after 'Nelson' got classified as a psychopath in India during the mandatory secondary psychological/psychiatric exam. 'Hyperides'' homicides are so messy that he was put in jail several times in Rio: he then would make use of his 'aboriginal ID/name' to get out, since the satanic managed to start a law in Brazil that is special for aborigines and says that the normal laws don't apply to them whenever they eat human flesh. The Al Qaeda lawyer then always appears to quote that law to authorities to get him out each time. Notice however that all members of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood consume human flesh and drink human blood after a certain degree but 'Nelson' wouldn't mark any others in that way in 'our' Al Qaeda family, so that he, Leinha and 'Braganca'/the devil, for instance, never had the hands that look like claws (it is a program of the 666 that makes the hand close in that special way when the person walks or stops, so that the fingers come together and the hand acquires that shape, of claw). We thought, at a certain stage, that they had concerns with us, Twins of God, surviving, so that he would have been the most caring brother/father in that situation, like considering who he is and who they are. However, 'Irene Prince', 'Ross Burke', the people in the Enmore house, the Enmore hairdresser, and others are cannibals, the hairdresser being a natural one (the others

Just to give another point, along the same lines, the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood obliges its members to usurp at a certain stage, when they may say something like, 'you can become anyone you'd like to become through us, so, in the first 20-year period, it works as if it were a new incarnation for you, have you thought about what sort of profession you'd like to have? What language you'd like to speak?' The package that they are selling is that, through them, you will become at least 5 different people, one for each period/stage of human life (it is assumed that human life would last for 100 years), so that you get to experience each time a new situation and therefore can learn more during your lifespan than you would learn normally, like you should learn more by varying language, culture, profession and so on. The 'seller' can then say that they themselves chose first a usurpation in Brazil, Porto Alegre, in a family and suburb of Italian people, where he would be a simple doorman, but then, on the second life, which is the one he is living now, he chose to be a diplomat in England, when his original language is French and he was born in Africa, and he chose things like that in order to learn the spirit of the most uneducated person as well as that of the most refined, which should give him highest contrast, so that he could acquire the perspective of both ends of the educational line. And now, what are you going to choose? That works like selling any other product: you have to entice the person into usurping. From there once more you learn that that is not a natural thing in human kind: nothing that is natural needs to be sold. A person who is offering a basic product, such as milk, simply lets it on offer and it will be bought. The customer may then ask for details but that is not selling: it is informing. A Christian would then have to be able to tell wrong from right at most after consulting heavens through Our Lord, Jesus Christ, and therefore already become suspicious upon noticing the 'sales' tone of the thing. They must then look for the 'catch': they said 'become anyone you'd like to become'. That certainly implies that you must not be able to become who you would like to become at this very moment, so from using your body as it is and your own ID plus biography. 'Tracy Chapman's' song talks about having a feeling that she could 'be someone, be someone, be someone' [20], so that the black African man adequately chooses a black person's image to pass that rhetoric: that people are not automatically someone with birth, an Our God's soul, a human body, a human identity - birth certificate and other documents, a Christian biography (without sin/crime), a native language, a native nation, a native people, that instead they need to become or should think of becoming. Here we must remember that the Nubians, from Moses' time, therefore the same black African males, were after even simply being believed to be non-Africans (so that we may say they usurped the title of non-African of the Phoenicians of Moses'), like not even the name of the people mattered, just spreading around, in Arabia, before they there arrived, that the non-Africans were coming and not even the language of the Phoenicians did they ever speak and they certainly did not have any notion about Our God [20]. How come a person who has all those 6 items we talked about is nothing and is still in need of becoming? The satanic brotherhood/sisterhood member (or their creations, such as Al Qaeda, terrorist group) is then proposing that they lose all those apart from their body, so that they forget they ever had their own name, act as if they never had one, nullify their birth certificate by now saying they were born somewhere else, acquire another date of birth, other parents, nullify their soul/acquire a mechanical soul as if they never had a natural one (so equivalent to someone who acquires a prosthetic leg), don't use the language they have already learned in the condition of native in their daily life and instead acquire another and put whatever they achieve in the biography/records of someone else, still becoming either a person who killed them or who took part in the plot, in any case a serious marginal, whose own biography - if ever the Twins of God can do something about it - after that, will become that of a sinner/serious criminal. You then have to basically unbuild yourself in all apart from your body to go with what they are saying and start the 'new incarnation' in the condition of sinner/satanic/in the path to hell when your natural life was Christian, therefore already in the path to salvation/paradise. It then looks like you will have to unbecome (first or only) instead of becoming someone. As if it did not suffice, after you are effectively 'in position', say, all you are ever going to be is letters in a biography of someone else, like, regardless of what you choose or do or feel, what this world and human kind will ever know about you, in the end of your experience, regardless of the number of the usurpation - yet the more you sin, the closer you are to achieving the only possible actual objective of satanism, which is getting to hell after death - is effectively nothing, so that effectively you not only unbecame your original self but you were changed from human being into letters in someone else's biography, which, unfortunately, is something inferior to a robot, since robots have limited thinking and acting capabilities, but they still can think and act, and they also have limited ID records, but they still have their unique serial number, which uniquely identify their shape (body), composition (genes), manufacturer (parents), programmer would have learned how to be one like 'Nelson' and Leinha, I believe) and were never marked like that. We didn't see anyone else marked that way apart from one guy at the Bashir's, when we were there, so by 2020. That did help identifying him, so one of them. Whenever I say 'Hyperides', I refer to 'Hyperides Ricci' my Al Qaeda uncle, who is supposed to have retired from army parachuting via disablement (alcoholic). Whenever I say 'Nelson', in my writings', it is 'Nelson Ricci Pinheiro', my Al Qaeda brother, who would have attended the college that prepares males for the Brazilian army, the same one 'Giovanni Mazafferro' attended. Whenever I say Leinha, in my writings, it is 'Lea Ricci Pinheiro', my Al Qaeda sister, who would have passed the entrance exam for AFTN, taxation officer in Campo Grande, MS, Brazil, and, when I left Brazil for good, in 2000, would be working in Florianopolis, and living in the CBD there with 'Diego Talavera' and 'Bianca Ricci Valle'.

(soul), etc. Besides, in none of this have we talked about the worst aspect of things, which is that you will have to accept or cope with actual slavery and still be subjected to the possibility that they move you even during the entire rest of your human existence, which means you won't not even get to feel things, like, even though you become only letters in the end, you could still exist like a sponge from the ocean and feel something as people come close to you but, if they decide to move you in full, not even that will you feel. Besides all this, you would have traded a human life likely to last for at least 60 years for letters in a biography of someone else and an existence of cyborg feel or sponge in which you may not make not even the first month, like the members of the clusters of multiples of 'Nelson' and Leinha when 'we' 'usurped' in Brazil (they killed 2 of those each so that they could stay in Brazil in the ID for longer²³).

All this is to prove that the institution proclaims to offer you a way to becoming but it is actually offering you a way to unbecoming, so that effectively they would have made you unbecome through their proposed processes, if you accept going through them, instead of becoming, which is then doing something that directly contradicts its purpose or printed set of rules there as well.

The satanic brotherhood/sisterhood is then an insane institution AS WELL (it says it is making black African men or black African male descents become freer and, instead, it is making them be more in slavery than they ever were before they joined it), on top of being illegal all over the world - meaning that the vast majority of humanity has deemed what it defends and fosters as absolutely unwanted.

The members/followers of the religion satanism who join the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood seem to, among other things, learn that all perpetration demands some type of technique for it to be perfect – therefore, for it to lead to expected results – such as getting the money stolen from a victim to end up in the perpetrator's bank account a week after the theft, or getting the forged painting sold for market value, or getting the person murdered and effectively replaced with the imposter, all without running any risk of any of that being acknowledged as their perpetration, or even as perpetration at all, especially by compliance and media. They then somehow are initiated in the art of studying and in the process of appropriating illicit knowledge/information/technique in a licit way, which should, if nothing else, make the transition to licit knowledge/information/technique acquisition processes easier. That is where the subject could acquire the passion for improving, perfecting, refining - and therefore analysing, inferring, and learning - and those are healthy things. However, the topic we study matters: perpetrating crime directly opposes the concept of civilization²⁴ and evolution in wisdom levels²⁵.

The idea of having wisdom zero has to be associated with the idea of madness. According to [45], wisdom means 'the ability to discern or judge what is true, right, or lasting, insight' as well as 'common sense, good judgement'. Where there is civilization, say in Brazil, for the reasons presented before, crime is considered to be wrong, and therefore having good judgement means agreeing with the majority and believing that perpetrating is wrong. If someone believes crime is wrong, they shouldn't ever invest in perpetrating and therefore in going through the school of crime studies provided by the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood. If they believe crime is wrong and still join such an institution, then spending life (because if they leave it, they will get killed) perpetrating when they believe crime is wrong, they would have to always operate in shared ego mode, ²³ Perhaps to make me company!

²⁴ According to [43], civilization is "An advanced state of intellectual, cultural, and material development in human society, marked by progress in the arts and sciences, the extensive use of record-keeping, including writing, and the appearance of complex political and social institutions." It is obvious that a federal government composed of three independent branches (executive, legislative and judiciary), where the legislative branch is formed of a congress with 594 members divided between senate (81 members) and chamber of deputies (513 members), with the senate being formed of 3 senators for each federal division of the Country and the chamber of deputies being formed following rules involving proportionality to the populations representing the states, which is how things go in Brazil in 2025 (Co-pilot), is way more complex than a single person, which is the federal government, legislative branch, of Egypt by the time of Moses (according to Co-pilot, he was the only person with allowances to create and administer laws back then), when the first usurpation, which is a mandatory perpetration in the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood, seems to have occurred [1]. In this case, Brazil is civilized nowadays but Egypt, back then, wasn't. (Co-pilot agrees with the assertion) What civilization led to was the development of a complex system of laws that mean homicide should preferably never be committed but, if ever happening, the Brazilian society expects the person to be able to prove that they were deprived from their senses or acted in self-defence, for otherwise they must be punished through isolation from the Brazilian society (usual incarceration or mental health facilities treatment).

²⁵ Co-pilot: "Philosophical and ethical studies have long explored the relationship between wisdom, well-being, and harmony, often emphasizing that crime disrupts these ideals. Here are some key sources:

1. Plato's Vision of Justice: Plato, in his work The Republic, argues that justice and wisdom are about achieving harmony within the soul and society. He emphasizes that living a virtuous life leads to personal and societal well-being, contrasting it with the chaos and harm caused by injustice.
2. Virtue Ethics: This ethical theory, rooted in the works of Aristotle, focuses on cultivating virtues like wisdom, justice and compassion. It suggests that wise choices promote flourishing and harmony, while actions like crime undermine these virtues and lead to discord.
3. Eudaimonic Well-Being: Ancient Greek philosophers, including Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle, equated well-being with living a virtuous life. They argued that moral excellence and wisdom are essential for achieving happiness and harmony, which crime fundamentally opposes."

which makes them someone insane [47]. However, more importantly, they wouldn't join an institution that defends that crime is a good thing, as the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood clearly does ('all you can do is crime'), if they believe that crime is wrong. The person who joins such a thing in Brazil is, therefore, devoid of good judgement/common sense. [46] discusses the M'Naghten Rule, which determines legal insanity based on the outcome of a court examination. This determination can be made if it is proven that, at the time of committing the criminal act, the defendant's mental state caused them to believe they knew what they were doing, but they did not understand that it was wrong [46]. A common example illustrating the second criterion is when a person acts under the belief that they are following orders from 'God' [46]. That is exactly what we see in those who join the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood: they are following satan, who they believe is Our God - the 'satan of the day' - who is the black African man or black African male descendant at the top of the pyramid (changed into a woman in the case of the sisterhood). Perhaps, if we value religion more than civilization, it is rational to put religious belief above the law, and Co-pilot says that people from Egypt, in the time of Moses, believed the laws came from Our God through the hands of the Pharaoh. Auguste Comte talks about intellectual evolution and says that human groups go through 3 intellectual stages, the most primitive being the theological one, 'where supernatural and religious beliefs dominate explanations of the world' and people think that natural phenomena are caused by divine beings or spirits²⁶, so that the members of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood are simply reactionaries, out of 2025, stuck in that time of Moses in Egypt. Basically, they were unable to accompany the speed of progress of the rest of humanity. To prove that they see the 'satan of the day' as supernatural being, or effectively their deity or part of it (just like Amen-Ra's wife was in Egypt at the time of Moses), please notice that the satanic brotherhood is about to make Revelation become reality: 'Nelson' spent horrible time developing an invisible laser with which the satanic brotherhood is going to make Christians disintegrate, because that is a necessity for item number 5, which is called the Rapture in the video of Attachment no. 7, to happen (Christians must disappear without leaving a trace on a certain day). According to the plans of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood, all will die apart from 144,000 black African men born in Egypt that they selected (we believe these will be descendants of the Nubian race), all just a matter of how or when, and 'Nelson' is not one of them, which means he also will die (see Attachment no. 16). Back in the time of Moses, Egypt adored a deity/demon called Amen-Ra, and they believed that deity/demon demanded human sacrifices through his human wife, their Amen's wife, who was a celibate Egyptian woman. The entire population then accepted having that woman requesting that a few selected people who lived in Egypt appear on the day of what would be 'their service', so that their lives would be sacrificed to appease Amen-Ra. They were then asked to throw themselves over a cliff, meeting the hard stone at the end of it and then dying instantaneously. We can then see that the authority of Amen's Wife was transferred to the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood's top leader, and 'he' can then order the death of us all this time, as he has been ordering the extermination of entire civilizations, peoples, and biological types, etc., all the way through. In this case, satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members experience a situation of shared ego ([47], [48]) with this leader for life once they join (or until we, Twins of God, can execute Our Plan of salvation for human kind and this world), and, in [47], we see that if the majority of a person's decisions are formed from shared processes (and that seems to be true about the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members), then they must suffer from some psychiatric or psychological disorder.

If a person lives in a civilized nation, such as Brazil, we have established that investing in crime by joining the satanic sisterhood/brotherhood is insanity, and since the more you progress in the institution, the higher your degree of pertinence or satanic freedom is, the more crimes you commit - and everyone would like to progress - the more insane you become, so that effectively you are progressing in the direction of totally ignoring society or full alienation, which is now how we will define satanic freedom.

Indeed, to confirm the conclusion - that of complete alienation from society - we have the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members deleting all our blog posts (more than 700 with Blogger, Marcia Pinheiro, blogs Crime, Religion, Curiosities, and Music), which were an agreement tied with a top satanic brotherhood/Al Qaeda member, black 'Nelson': that the entire human kind would be able to read those blog posts and see what their group is about and what they do at this stage. Those who deleted the posts then fear judgement of their acts by society only now, when I write the blogs, after spending life perpetrating: that means they never heard

²⁶ Co-pilot: "Auguste Comte, often called the father of sociology, proposed the Law of Three Stages to explain the intellectual evolution of human societies. These stages are:

1. Theological Stage: This is the earliest phase, where supernatural and religious beliefs dominate explanations of the world. People attribute natural phenomena to divine beings or spirits.
2. Methaphysical Stage: In this stage, abstract and philosophical reasoning replaces supernatural explanations. It represents a transitional phase where people begin to question religious dogma and explore abstract concepts.
3. Positive Stage: The final stage is marked by scientific inquiry and empirical evidence. Here, humans rely on observation, experimentation, and rational inquiry to understand the world.

Comte's theory emphasizes the progression from religious to rational-scientific understanding, laying the foundation for modern sociology.

society or bothered about it at all as they perpetrated. On the other hand, those supporting the Twins of God and Our Solution, such as 'Nelson', 'Braganca'/the devil', and 'Osama', clearly support the end of the thing and therefore want to restore their Our God-given original freedom, which means they don't have a shared ego situation for agreeing with that anymore. They also listened to society as they perpetrated (myself and 'Maria Ribeiro Ricci' included in the bunch they listened to): that is why they understand that it was wrong and don't mind speaking to the press now or going to jail for a time. According to the definitions of insanity we gave here, that can only mean there is a good chance they have recovered sanity.

III. Conclusions

We here analysed some criminal actions, some licit actions, inferential processes - especially in what comes to the weight of logical premises - and pieces of biography of the top satanic sisterhood member, Leinha, my Al Qaeda sister, and of an essential member of the satanic brotherhood, who is, among others, in charge of usurpation, 'Nelson', my Al Qaeda brother, with a view to determining their sanity levels. We then concluded that they are both mentally ill, perhaps suffering from a mental illness not yet defined, which makes the individual perceive the body of others as a continuation of their own, just like a baby would. We are calling this 'immature psyche syndrome'.

We also studied causes of such a syndrome and ended up with at least one possible reason: their Al Qaeda parents/carers (who never connected for real to anyone else before usurping), when raising them, would have prioritized intellect and logical thinking over emotions and appreciation of individuality. However, intellect and logical thinking are things that make us be regarded as more similar to each other, instead of being things that promote differentiation - like everyone agrees that it is better to eat cooked rather than raw meat - so that logical thinking makes us all be one thing, indiscernible parts. If an assertion of intellectual type is analysed in isolation, without context, and comes typed on a piece of paper, it is impossible to tell where it is coming from: anyone could have said that at any time, for any reason.

As a conclusion, the recipe for raising mentally healthy individuals, who won't harm society and will tend to engage in constructive activities, must involve understanding that it is by dedicating themselves to the delicate threading of ultra-personal logical premises and inferences for actions/thoughts/choices in the spirit of the other that individuals start being perceived as unique, special, and therefore different from the other. Besides, it must also involve touch: caresses, hugs, kisses (emotions), and even simply walking arm in arm or hand in hand should make the individual not only acknowledge the difference of the bodies - since they cannot do those things to themselves and the stimuli are gone once the person leaves them - but should also make individuals feel that they are loved and wanted in this world and by their own kind, which has to decrease levels of hate ([49] and [50]).

Those who murder in a psychopathic way, as the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members do - so without feelings of any type appearing in the spirit after or before the murder, all resuming to logic/abstract things - are, during those moments of perpetrating, feeling that those they murder are the same as a cancer in their own bodies. Since, with cancer, they are legally authorized to remove it, regardless of the expense involved, they feel licensed to remove those individuals from the world/society through any type of violence. The mechanical soul/666 was, in those regards, the greatest enabler ever: through it, satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members can 'move' others, literally insert what would be the equivalent to cue lines in a play/movie, just that, this time, the director can add facial expressions, moods, body moves and stops, along with others, directly inside the brain of the actors/victims, literally making them 'walk the book/imagined screen/stage result', which then certainly nullifies any possible element of differentiation between the body of the perpetrator and that of their victims. Satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members even say that life in this world is about puppets and puppeteers ('Joao Carlos Ricci Terra' in private conversation with us).

It is true that the head bug/mechanical soul/666 could also be used by satanic brotherhood/sisterhood members to make them be alienated from any possible feeling at the moment of perpetration (what we are calling spiking, phenomenon recently observed by us in what regards a 'woman' who figured as possible perpetrator of homicide, followed by usurpation of our existence either by her or her associate, against us here, in our building). Yet, we concluded that, if an individual had perpetrated for being kept spiked, they would feel the impact of the suffering/loss/injury inflicted on the victims as soon as the spiking was gone - and it would have to be gone for them to be able to remain mingled with compliant societal members - in their spirit. That means they would suffer, so experience feelings such as remorse, trauma, persecution (usually associated with spiritual or religious rhetoric/beliefs) and pain (which could translate into nightmares/hallucinations or talking with others about how victims looked or felt, or how they impacted their clothes and bodies, or how their death will impact other societal members, such as husbands or kids).

We here also analysed the provenance of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood and the satanic bible, which contains its principles, rites, degrees of pertinence and so on, with the intent to uncover conflicts of major order involving those and what the member is actually getting as an end result for their life upon joining and investing in it.

The satanic brotherhood/sisterhood claims that the black African man is being forced to become a Christian-like creature—therefore compliant and helpful/useful—by Our Lord, Jesus Christ, through brainwashing his soul before inserting it into him, since his nature is satanic or non-compliant and useless/harmful. The satanic brotherhood/sisterhood then provides a path to total freedom/joy through its 33 levels of pertinence/basic program. Yet, it inserts a mechanical soul/666 into him that he can never get rid of as a first thing, and that trivially allows for him to be even entirely moved by a master/puppeteer. Even though one can say that it is theoretically possible that Our Lord programs our soul with certain principles, it is widely known that Our Lord never moves us in full, so that just that allowance/possibility proves that the man who joins such an institution becomes more enslaved than ever. (He is actually obliged to do at least 15 things for life as well while Our Lord only now wants to impose 4 instructions to him - so 11 less - and instructions that he will be fully aware of. With the institution, the instructions should always be a mystery in full or in part and can be changed at any time). Members are also obliged to usurp existence as if they don't have one of their own, and the process means unbecoming themselves/someone when the rhetoric would be that they are becoming whoever they want instead.

We concluded that, through usurpation, individuals are changed from beings who had at least 6 parts defining their beings - at least 4 of them universally seen as their exclusive and legally or heavenly protected property, which uniquely identify them in the spirit of each, and every human, and grant them the possibility of being referred to by anyone in any point in time - into the equivalent of the most primitive of all animals, a sessile one (ChatGPT words. Notice that ocean sponges are also inferior to a robot, since it cannot converse or interact with humans and it cannot think, who would say produce inferences of its own), who is indiscernible from the other animals of its type in the spirit of all humans apart from at most biologists, with absolutely no allowance to be even remembered by someone else (letters on someone else's biography won't make us see those as theirs, since they go associated with the name of the victim instead).

Given that the direction of the actions of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood frontally opposes that of its purposes or printed rules, we concluded that the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood is an insane institution as well.

Perpetrating crime directly opposes the concept of civilization and evolution in levels of wisdom. The idea of having wisdom zero has to be associated with the idea of madness. Having wisdom has to mean having common sense. In civilized places, the majority of the people believe that perpetrating is wrong. If someone believes crime is wrong, they shouldn't ever invest in perpetrating and therefore in going through the school of crime studies provided by the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood. If they believe crime is wrong and still join such an institution, then spending life (because if they leave it, they will get killed) perpetrating when they believe crime is wrong, they would have to always operate in shared ego mode, which makes them someone insane (they had some wisdom, yet saw the other as wiser or more powerful in their own spirit, which made them share the ego of the other and adopt that as their own. Common sense is that one can only go with their own ego in situations like this, which means they actually had no wisdom at all before the eyes of others, which could, on this special occasion, be regarded as the 'eyes of Our God'). If the individual has wisdom, therefore acts within common sense, they wouldn't join an institution that defends that crime is a good thing, as the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood clearly does ('all you can do is crime'), since they would believe what is believed by the vast majority, which is that crime is wrong, and would stick to it. The person who joins such a thing is therefore devoid of common sense.

According to the M'Naghten Rule, if, at the time of committing the criminal act, the defendant's mental state caused them to believe they knew what they were doing, but they did not understand that it was wrong, such as when a person acts under the belief that they are following orders from 'God,' they should be treated as any other mentally ill person. Those who join the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood believe they are following satan, who they believe is Our God: the 'satan of the day', who is the black African man or of black African male descent of the top of the pyramid (changed into a woman in the case of the sisterhood). Perhaps, if we value religion more than civilization, it is rational to put the religious belief above the law. In Egypt, and that is where the satanic bible is coming from - modern Egypt - as well as the founders of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood, religious beliefs were so much above the state that, despite having rigorous laws against murder (Co-pilot), they adored Amen-Ra, and the Amen's Wife of their society could then periodically choose some members of their society for the periodic human sacrifice that was aimed at appeasing Amen-Ra. The members of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood are then reactionaries, since, following Auguste Comte's theory on the intellectual evolution of human groups, the most primitive intellectual stage would be the theological one and the highest would be the academic one (based on scientific inquiry and empirical evidence). It is not that there aren't theocracies still nowadays (ChatGPT says that about 3% of the nations are theocracies), but those who produced their bible and started the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood were from what is modern Sudan and Egypt and even those nations evolved to non-theocracies (Sudan changed into a democracy only in 2019, so really late compared to America, but it did change/evolve and Egypt moved on to non-theocracy in 30 BCE already, according to Co-pilot) plus it is only 3% of the nations on earth that are still theocracy. Since we are American native, we can say they are reactionaries compared to us, who evolved to democracy in 1787, and the Egyptians have even more authority to say so considering Co-pilot's information. Yet, even if they wish to say they are from Sudan and therefore are not so behind in time, one must remember that they are perpetrating in our countries, not in theirs only and, when they perpetrate or live here, following the M'Naghten Rule, they are insane.

If a person lives in a civilized nation, such as Brazil, we have established that investing in crime by joining the satanic sisterhood/brotherhood is insanity and, since the more you progress in the institution, so the higher your degree of pertinence or satanic freedom is, the more crimes you commit - and everyone would like to progress - the more insane you become, so that effectively you are progressing in the direction of totally ignoring society or full alienation, which is now how we will define satanic freedom.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xLn95SqyugY&t=574s>, that was 'Nelson' again. He would have killed those people himself and the guy picked the bodies in the forest, just like what he said. They would have been both moved via device. 'Nelson' consulted me on this one. He was then testing if he could convert us into what they are, like I would always defend human rights, compliance and the life of people when conversing with them and he then was 'studying' if, instead of killing everyone else, he could be converting us via 666 into what they are, like, since that was a solution to human kind's problems or world problems, then we should all do it or something. He created a series of possible causes for their behavior based on our conversations as well. I think I said there was no possible justification but he wanted to present one. They then did their best in this movie. 'Dmitry'/Dimitri is a name used also in 'Tom Cruise's' movie for the scientist I invented (I gave the plot for that one), so that there should be something special about this name. It apparently means adorers of demeter, who is supposed to be a Greek goddess of agriculture, fertility, and harvest, in short it is the name of a demoniac person (there is only Our God or the devil and his creatures, among those demeter). Natalia is a name that apparently means birthday of Christ. The satanic brotherhood seems to be a little obsessed with Our Christ: the 33 degrees, the name Natalia, the demoniac figure in Napoleon's palace, which is one of the places where they assemble for their rites, etc. The name Natalia could be there to mean 'new beginning', so we start humanity again: this time we will all be moved by 666 to eat other humans. This woman and man obviously got usurped long time before this. The movie even shows different faces for both of them, despite being a cartoon. The original woman was probably a Christian, given the name, so that the bit about alcoholism and finding no meaning in life is obviously part of the defamation campaign of the satanic. Dmitry, despite the name, was probably a very balanced and Christian person as well. Probably both IDs got usurped long before these crimes for the first time.

The Cariocas took away my capability for adding pictures to my websites, so sorry if I can only give you the link. <https://vnexpress.net/tag/dmitry-baksheev-934960> is one version of the couple. <https://oglobo.globo.com/mundo/casal-canibal-pode-ter-vendido-tortas-de-carne-humana-na-russia-21877787> is yet another version of the couple (both Dmitry and Natalia have changed, as usual, and the female figure seems to be a transgender, maybe an ex-negro). <https://metro.co.uk/2017/09/27/cannibal-couple-sold-human-meat-pies-to-local-cafe-6958927/> is yet another version of the couple, so new usurpers for the 'role' of the man and for the role of the woman.

What is above this paragraph is what I am led to believe if I think of the conversations I had with 'Nelson' regarding this case, yet my guesses are that he did absolutely everything, including eating those corpses and putting them in those places. He also killed the couple those times and probably added the previous usurper to the collection of corpses in the house. He would then also have taken the pictures. He thought of all that, including how the mobile would be found and the head with oranges around it (I remember having said that oranges, specially without any treatment, would be really odd, would make the dish look disgusting, but he insisted), during the conversation with me, and that was several years before it happened, so that I am sure it is all a result of Al Qaeda moving those people. Even though 'Nelson' told me he was going to make the guy go to the forest to get the corpses from his hands, I now think he brought them to the house, since it is really hard to carry corpses and someone could see them doing that but they say nobody did. Even the plot involving the jealousy was created 'with' me, so that they were moved all the time.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Dmitry_and_Natalia_Baksheevy says that they were convicted just for one death, what is odd, since the movie talks about 30 instead. <https://www.bbc.com/news/world-europe-41396831> talks about 30 as well.

This video provides a guide to people who want to engage in cannibalism: that they will find things online and can go from there. It also tells the marginals that Russia has absurd laws: she got 10 years of penal colony labor and less than 2 in jail and he got only 12 years in jail for all this (30 corpses). That is then the rhetoric of the satanists that is being passed by the video. The man still dies in jail in 2020 from diabetes, so that we learn that the satanic can give us diabetes through the 666 as well.

<https://x.com/WrittenInRain/status/1823398578355614013> says 'Audrey Hepburn' was a famous satanist. Some say she was a devout Christian and daughter of protestant with Christian scientist (even one of their satanic vehicles, Wikipedia, says she dedicated much of her time to UNICEF (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Audrey_Hepburn) and we then imagine she worked without receiving a cent for them, which means she was passionate about saving and helping kids and that frontally opposes satanism, like it is definitely more a Jesus' thing. A modern satanic could use UNICEF as a means to stop possibilities that children get help or as a means to increase possibilities of attacking kids as well, so that it is not guaranteed that, just because of working at UNICEF, she would be a Christian but it is very likely). The truth is obviously that she also got usurped at a certain stage and the usurper was the one who was a satanist. <https://www.gettyimages.com.au/detail/news-photo/belgian-born-actress-audrey-hepburn-in-a-black-sleeveless-news-photo/107350161?adppopup=true> and <https://www.gettyimages.com.au/detail/news-photo/belgian-born-american-actress-audrey-hepburn-wearing-a-news-photo/52107281?adppopup=true> probably give you the best contrast, but, as you expect by now, knowing all we have studied together, she was also replaced several times. She lived from 29 to 1993 (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Audrey_Hepburn) but the Al Qaeda bug started by 1888, so that not only she was clearly replaced but natural women are not allowed in the satanic brotherhood or sisterhood, it is at most transgenders. Her replacements seem to all be natural women apart from perhaps one, <https://www.gettyimages.com.au/detail/news-photo/belgian-born-actress-audrey-hepburn-in-a-black-sleeveless-news-photo/107350161?adppopup=true> (bony face and the feel of the face, but mostly the end of the face, chin that is flat with straight lines coming out of it), so that perhaps this one could have been a transgender, so originally a black man, since only those would be allowed in, as we concluded, so a whitened black man changed into a transgender. This single ID usurper could then have made 'Audrey's' ID get stained, but we are not really examining all her online images with due care. Everyone who is not with Our God would be a demoniac person and some say satan is the same as the devil, even though he is just one more entity that belongs to the realms of hell therefore of the devil: the other versions of 'Audrey' could then perhaps be tagged satanist for this reason. Her image is then wisely used by 'Nelson' to make a statement: we belong to the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood.

I believe the place where they lived by the time of the murders was empty, occupied only by themselves, so that it is weird that the video says she was still having contact with cadets at such a time. According to the own video, she would be a nurse, actually head nurse of the sanitation department in Russia, who then got given a prestigious position in an aviation academy. We got some help from Co-pilot to guess that this position would be Chief Medical Officer (we queried it about most prestigious position in an aviation academy in Russia), since the satanic brotherhood has already erased any trace of her true biography from the Internet, leaving 'her' with the satanized biography instead, so her involvement with these gruesome crimes. As a Chief Medical Officer, she would obviously never have access to the situation of serving food to cadets, so that this is one more piece in the satanization puzzle. The most prestigious aviation academy from Russia, according to Co-pilot, is the Moscow Aviation Institute (MAI). I typed her full name, as for Wikipedia spelling, and Moscow Aviation Institute and got a page with 3 results only and all of them had a summary that involved mention to the gruesome crimes and her coupleship with Dmitry (therefore with an adorer of the devil/his creatures and still someone who didn't shower, according to the video and the neighbors the satanic found for them, also her second marriage, when top Christians obviously would do right on the first one). I typed Natalia and Moscow Aviation Institute and I then got some 10 pages of results but, as we know, closest matches come on the first page and there there is one Natalia at the top and this Natalia has 'graduated from Moscow Aviation Institute' on the summary, so that it implies that she at most graduated there. I am then sure the prestigious job she got was exactly there, in the best aviation academy Russia had, and she also got the most prestigious possible position in her area, top achiever. To make it better, she was a Christian woman with a wonderful Christian family, according to the own satanist (movie), that already being the why she got such greatness of achievements, as we keep on repeating. 'Nelson' then couldn't conform that she was a woman of excellence and still Christian in her philosophy of life, so that he started by attacking the husband, who, according to his thinking, should have been a part of the satanic brotherhood and therefore should have badly treated his wife instead of having displayed Christian love for her. I would think he raped her before subjecting her to whatever death it was (punished for not following the instructions/guidelines of the satanic brotherhood), here thinking of 'Mert Ney's' case. He then attacked the wife and her biography. With 'Michaela', the death was cruel, but relatively quick, so that I calculate he killed her quickly then replaced with the woman who was supposed to function as his tool/satan's tool for staining 'Natalia's' biography. I then now believe the women who went through the ordeal involving the corpses are others, not the original Natalia. I think the original Natalia got usurped at early age and the Natalia he victimized like that was a usurper, so usurper number n, just because he then knows all about her life, since she is an Al Qaeda slave and therefore he can predict she will end up like that even because the life of all slaves is fully commanded by the satanic. Call this the Natalia Experience, maybe. He called one of his daughters (scramble) Natalia as well. Maybe just because her name is Natalia she is allowed to a truly Christian marriage, including a kid, before this fatidic end. 'Nelson' must have used her kid for satanic rituals, say offer to Baal even though I believe here in maximum satanization, so rape followed by marital experience, the devil knows what else, and only then Baal thing.

I think 'Nelson' moved them to an empty part of the institute, where there were no students, and, while the husband disappeared with the death 'Nelson' decided he would have, the kid disappeared in the Baal thing and Natalia probably abandoned her job, as for formalities. I believe 'Nelson' kept them in phase out living there each time, so each new couple, and he then appeared say once or twice a year to make the kill (and also put the corpse there), perhaps eat some flesh, do some dodge stuff, like the pictures in the mobile, and leave.

The main reason to satanize biographies, according to 'Nelson', therefore to negros, is that people tend to care less about those members of society who are more on the wrong side, so prostitutes, marginals, mentals and so on. Their atrocities/crimes then generate smaller impact on the hearts of society members and therefore those will have more good will with them.

Yesterday I remembered a few more relevant things about 'Nelson's'/satanic brotherhood crimes: in the Suffolk attack, when those people coming by airplane got replaced underground, 'Nelson' would have brought the negros via spaceship to the 'mouth' of one of the tunnels that is really close to the base together with the replacements and the replacements were already dressed in the same way as the 'originals' that were in that part of the building. I guess it would have been one negro for each victim. The negros then wait for the sign and enter to put the replacement in place and take the 'original' with them. They then eat the 'original' inside of the tunnel and 'Nelson' later on picks them up with the spaceship, so that it is possible the tunnels of the Suffolk base, those leading to underground, contain some pieces of clothes or other items of the victims. Replacements are transported in phase out. They would have found out the clothes they were wearing on the day from conversing with them about that via head bug, I imagine, like they would program the victim with subliminal instructions so that, on that particular day, they dress exactly what they pre-organized. I believe new usurpers are then brainwashed/programmed to act/think in the way they do upon being turned on. I also believe those to be replaced are put in phase out before the negros come from the tunnels. I then believe these particular negros are cannibals and perhaps figure as whites and perhaps they don't use transgenders in these attacks, only men. 'Nelson' also told me about the bugging: I then see this image of a street somewhere in my head, as I refer to this. Asphalt, buildings. It seems that 'Nelson' uses the post, delivery for next day, and they bug without having concerns with the telephone number each victim received. They receive a map and the respective amount of bugs inside of an envelope. They then go around at that time of the night, perhaps 2am, to visit people inside of their homes and bug them. It seems that they only put people who have, as one of their skills, being able to enter anywhere any time without leaving a trace to mark people with 666. They then find out about the victim from observing them through the bugs they have got, only then assigning names or whatever information they can retrieve like that to that particular mobile number. I believe the buggers would be negroes painted in white (and perhaps with the other tons of modifications) as for Australia, Brazil, USA and England. If they ever find someone who is awake, they probably use ether or something like that to knock them out and then bug and brainwash, then making them forget the encounter. He also described how he replaced/bugged army students once: that he goes to their lodge at night and does one by one of the little rooms where they stay.

I noticed they put a negro woman with red eyes in this movie, so clearly satanized. Probably to mean 'Carla'/the negro women joined them in their sisterhood at this height, so was brainwashed to pass to the other team or something. Notice that the male figure ('Dmitry') appears in the 3 pictures with what seems to be the same clothes and the female figure ('Natalia') seems to appear with the same clothes twice, so that 'Nelson' must have dressed them each time before the pictures, I reckon. May God bless!

2) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Single Chin Strike Death', 1/3/2025

I now realize that only 'Lea Maria', Leinha, 'Osama' and 'Braganca' can kill people with a single chin strike: their right hand goes in a line with their arm and hits the chin from down below on one strike, what instantaneously kills the victim/target. It seems that 'Nelson' cannot do it: he kills in other ways.

I then infer that is not a transferable skill, like via bug, and I wonder why, since everything else seems to be. I also now wonder where they learn to kill like this. My intuition tells me it must be with the cannibals, yet I look for something in common between them. My strongest belief is that 'Braganca', 'Osama' and Leinha are all from India. Yet, 'Lea Maria', I had connected to an island dominated by the Portuguese instead. Leinha was a male, so that it might be that only Portuguese speakers from India had access to this teaching/technique? Why black 'Nelson' wouldn't bother learning from the same teachers, I now wonder. It looks like really interesting skills to have.

My strongest theory is that they see a cannibal killing like that, in this case, probably black 'Nelson', so say 'Ricardo Pinheiro', and he then gets him bugged and transfers the skills to the others through the bug. He would then monitor the bug before, during and after the movement and, with that, would be able to isolate the brain activity, which he would then copy and change into a skill that can be added through bug.

<https://www.iflscience.com/grim-study-reveals-cannibalistic-murderers-choose-victims-56901> talks about how cannibals usually kill their victims and there is no remark about such a method, unfortunately. Once more, only God's Brainwashing can enable us to put all this to be 'white' science and allow us to restore everything and everyone.

3) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Jesus and the Crucifixion', 3/22/2025

<https://www.youtube.com/shorts/7DBSxRONcl0> tells us how things actually were: Jesus had his intestines out of his body when he died on the cross, meaning he resisted all the negro here says, still alive, and died only at the end of it. Since his intestines were out AS WELL, he obviously never resurrected (even though the marginal, after replacing him, comes up with wounds that were almost self-inflicted, as explained before, he obviously wouldn't put intestines out or anything like that. Jesus at most showed up in spirit therefore, once more, after death. Longinus was a good guy, good centurion, but he got replaced by the marginal before Jesus was taken, so that the marginal could maximize suffering and pain for Jesus. Even though the replacement of Longinus received such instructions, the marginal ended up pitying Jesus Christ when he saw his intestines out and the scenery the negro describes in this video, so that the marginal couldn't cope and replaced the replacement, then inventing that Longinus had visual impairment and got healed through the suffering/pain/mutilation of Jesus Christ for several reasons: one was to spread rhetoric in the direction of us acquiring a picture, in the Collective Unconscious (my definition), that, by hurting the Christians or Christ, we would get favors/good things/miracles happening, two was to spread rhetoric in the direction of us acquiring a picture, in the Collective Unconscious, that the satanic did something good to Our Jesus by hitting him (to legitimize their methods/approach to life, which is violence, brutality, maximum disloyalty, no mercy, and so on) and something way less worse than they had done (they used the history of Longinus to spread their version of the centurion, their slave, was actually a devotee, loved Christ like nobody else and so on) and three to keep on going with the myth they were there creating in order to pass way more satanic rhetoric. Also observe that the level of violence employed by the centurion was infinite and therefore directly contradicts what 'Davies' (we believe he is also a usurper) said in [22]. By the way, the satanic seem to have exterminated almost all veterans and 'Davies' claims to be one of them but, in his case, the ID would have been usurped instead of killed. I was watching the Anzac Parade yesterday and couldn't believe how meagre it was.

Notice here that, as the marginal did all things he did to Our Jesus, he concluded he was a crook and 'Mary' invented he was the savior to save herself from stonning, which was a version of the story that came to my mind when I was heavily satanized as well. In concluding such things, the marginal felt empathy and that is the only reason as to why he decided to replace Jesus and therefore invent some satanic utility for his figure. Our God is wise and great, so that He made good use of that, since it was only thanks to the marginal that the world got to know Jesus and Our God somehow and is therefore already inclined to join us. Our God has this thing: of writing straight through tortuous lines.

Upon asking a few things regarding human anatomy and situation of Christ in relation to the centurion to Co-pilot, also forensics, we are absolutely convinced that the marginal did not lie in what regards intestines being exposed: the satanic centurion (replacement of the good Christian Longinus, may Our God take good care of him now and forever) obviously would like to guarantee Christ's death, so that they could run their own program, of the satanic brotherhood, which would be that of confirming the prophecies they had invented, like Jesus couldn't keep on being alive after all that, he had to actually die, so that they could replace him. The own marginal says 'side' as the injured part (more than once, like when he is getting pierced and when the 'apostle' is checking, so that we are sure sure that is what they meant, the entire side), not lungs, torax, or stomach, so that it was the entire side and, to guarantee death, according to Co-pilot, that was best strategy, so that the marginal pierced on a single strike the entire side of Jesus, starting from below, where he was located, since things are similar to what we see in the movies. Just like the chin knock, the satanic make moves that remain unacknowledged by the human eye, so quick, so that the satanic centurion made a straight line from behind intestine and upwards, taking his entire side, what made the intestines show. To have the immediate flow of water and blood they describe, Co-pilot says it would have to be heart (blood) and pericardium (water), and it is possible to simply drag the spear in such a way starting from below the intestine. As another point, the satanic brotherhood wanted maximum humiliation of Our God's creatures, as always, if possible that they be proven to have a God that doesn't care enough or at all about them: that would be rhetoric to the own satanic brotherhood/sisterhood (then satan is right: powerful and caring, in the sense of protection and revenge, is only the devil). We observe that Christ never cried or yelled during the entire process of crucifixion (never yelled, ever), according to the own satanic brotherhood members: Our God takes away the pain from his body, process some described as being his soul being taken out, but it isn't. Our Lord Jesus also takes away the pain from my body during the entire process that I go through of crucifixion from inside over and over, like perhaps every single day in the last 3 years and 3 months plus, and I do not split from my soul: it is there all the time. We then believe human life is not a big deal for Our God and it became even less with the figure of Jesus and the process of incarnations. According to the satanic, Jesus would have asked Our God why he abandoned him, yet noticed that the word used was Abba, which is father (we now believe his adoptive father spoke Arabic instead and was never named Joseph, in the same way his mother was never named Mary. They should have Arabic names instead), therefore 'Joseph', since we never see his figure mentioned during the crucifixion, only the female figures instead and Jesus was then missing him (this is all told by the satanic, so that we cannot really testify on that being true). The marginal would have frugal contact with the history/life of Jesus, things changing a bit since 1880s because of the 666, like they can now accompany all the process of a human life, if wanting, through their atrocities but, before the 666, they had to guess most of it, specially in what comes to people like Jesus/true Christians, since they, first of all, would have some respect, and would naturally keep distance, and second, in the case of Jesus, some protection from the Highest, so that those elements would not be close to him in life. They could not spot Jesus' adoptive father anywhere around Jesus after he starts mentoring/guiding humans, as Co-pilot says, and their assumption, which is obviously Co-pilot's, is then that 'Joseph' died before he started doing that (again, all these reports cannot really be believed, since it is all coming from the satanic brotherhood). It is all very unfortunate, that the only true source of information we are left with, in such a world, before we start executing Our Salvation Plan, is the own marginal. If Our Jesus really worked with wood together with his adoptive father, then he must have been very fond of him, which does make it possible that Our Jesus would call for him at the cross, yet we really cannot trust the reports we have got so far, as said.

Here we also prove that the marginal needed to change rhetoric/narrative: from what actually happened and was seen by the eyes of the satanic centurion to the story they tell, which is that the centurion's eyes were healed, like Jesus still said, 'Thank You', to him after being pierced, or worse, Our God did. The intestines were not showing either, according to their narrative, so that the blow was 'just to check things' and the centurion was obliged to do 'at least that' by his commander, just like the 'veteran' describes in his paper [22] and so on. We learned, long time ago, that the marginal replaces usurpers with new usurpers each time he changes narrative, so that this also corroborates the version of the story we told here and perhaps, finally, the marginal never really had any good intention when replacing the replacement. May Our God bless those who do what we ask immediately.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nQUJGceTH9I>, Pilates was usurped, so that we really don't know if this letter is one more of the satanic brotherhood deceits or true. We don't believe he cursed any apple trees

(not sure we understood well, that those were apple trees), therefore this letter shouldn't be believed. Notwithstanding, the golden hair is how he was depicted in a painting my Al Qaeda grandmother had in her dining room. We really really don't believe Jesus has ever cursed a thing or a being, so realistically no. He describes Jesus as someone who would lean against a tree to talk with others, yet good orators do not do that and Jesus must have been an excellent one. Once more, not believable, probably satanic stuff, so from the usurper with intents to lie, deceive and cheat. May Our God bless those who do what we ask immediately.

5) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Some Say This Document Belongs to Someone Who Genuinely Had Direct Contact with Earthly Parents of Jesus', 4/2/2025

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YOIE3vToCz8&t=430s>, The name of the mother of Jesus is first told to be Elizabeth, then Mary. He says Jesus was lazy and could not be found after trying his home several times, thus implying Jesus lived with his parents and would not inform those of his whereabouts. From those things, we know this letter is not genuine: no Christian should be lazy, specially the son of Our God, who came with a mission. Christians would always inform those they live with where they are going, since they should always choose other Christians to share house with and therefore can trust those. A person with minimum respect for those they interview would not swap the name of the possible mother of Jesus and a Christian would never emit a document in which the same individual is called two different ways without giving an explanation to those who will read it. After we have Our God's Brainwashing going and during or after the first Marcia Hope, we should be able to get something better than the Carbon Dating system we have these days in order to be able to tell when a document was printed/written. We will then be able to prove, for instance, that this letter was produced after Jesus died. Notice that they mention the Holy Ghost and it is our belief the Holy Ghost was invented by Jesus as a way to be with us all all the time and send tokens of wisdom. Upon having guessed that this was a gross falsification of documents, the satanic gave me the memory tokens that are connected to the case and I then saw Leinha telling me that the satanic had been given the task of adulterating those documents but they didn't want to do that very much, so that they added those little bits to make it easier for Christians to realize it was forgery, so that she implies those mistakes were intentional (Jesus being lazy, never being found at home and not letting his parents know where he was, the name of Mary being swapped at least once with that of Elizabeth, etc.). They then forged this document perhaps during our lifetime, but succeeded in ageing it and all else. Leinha says they left it hidden in the Vatican in case they had an emergency, so in case something like us, The Twins of God, appeared on their way. May Our God bless those who do what we ask immediately.

6) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Nazi Camps: It Might Have Been Only Blacks Dying There', 4/3/2025

<https://www.theatlantic.com/photo/2011/10/world-war-ii-the-holocaust/100170/>, we had a look at these pictures, now with eyes that have learned something after doing research into the topic and producing a few papers on that, such as https://www.academia.edu/128301611/Satanism_in_Nowadays_Society_and_World, and we then think the pictures where we have more of a closeup on the faces show us negros, so men who have been painted in white via head bug/666: notice the ears that protude, the V-faces and things like that. We then understand that The Jews were probably as negro as the Hebrews and the Israelites, so that perhaps there were never peoples with these designations: those were all only one people instead, the black Africans. We now feel much better about Nazism. We also know it was the own negros who did all that, as said on https://www.academia.edu/127356734/Hitler_He_Really_Didn_t_Do_It

Today we reached the conclusion that Our God's people were probably the Phoenicians and the negros nicknamed those Canaanites. The bible, the Jewish book and the Islamic bible were entirely written by negros, so black men from Africa, as explained on https://www.academia.edu/127998670/Devil_x_God_3_200_Plus_Years_of_Huge_Losses

With this, we reached the conclusion that Our God noticed those people accumulating in Arabia (Israel was part of Arabia back then) and calling themselves Our God's people but doing every sort of atrocity. He saw the entire world believing they were Our God's people. He then decided to send His son in human shape in order to teach them from being one of them, since He then thought they would understand by copying, if nothing else. Like us, Jesus was among them passing all instructions, all guidance that was necessary for them to actually become Our God's people. Yet they have done all things they have done to him and he then said, to Pilates' question (we think we are sure Pilates was also usurped or moved via voice-to-skull, which is equivalent thing, since the person stops being themselves to become/do whatever the negro wants), on whether he was the King of the Jews, 'you said it', since he should be but certainly wasn't treated as such. At the same time, he was making us see that that is then the definition that the negros would have for a king: someone who should be treated like that. That does match what we found out they did to the Pharaoh in Egypt, which is killing him and usurping. He then also said 'forgive Father, for they don't know what they are doing'. He was then thinking that, even though he had been among them and tried to teach them in all ways, they couldn't really appreciate or understand, therefore never realized not even what had happened. The negroes that come later believe the writings and teachings of the negroes that came before them and, among those, is the three 'holy' books: of Islam, Christianity and Judaism. As the negroes (disguised as Jews) say, Our Savior, Our Jesus, did not satisfy some of the prophecies, so that they think he couldn't really be the savior/Jesus. Of course, if they knew Our God and Elohim would never build any prophecy, they would know those are coming from hell, not from heavens, yet they believe it is all coming from Our God, even though it was all invented by the own African negroes that were here before them. Because they genuinely want to be with Our God and Our Savior, Jesus said 'forgive them Father, they don't know what they are doing' and that is the only reason the negroes had almost 2,000 years to evolve and finally come to the conclusion that that in Jerusalem was Our Savior, Jesus Christ, in his incarnation on earth and those writings and rhetoric are all satanic/demoniac. It is on our duty to learn how to tell good from bad, evil from good, devil from Our God, hell from heavens, etc., so that Our God had infinite compassion for the negroes: those were almost 2,000 years. Also notice that the negro gets convinced the devil is the right deity to be adored because of the rhetoric/brainwashing that is made in massive manner against them, so that it looks and feels as if the only stable mass is the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood and so on, therefore they think they must have the actual truth and they then believe that things are what they are told. Also that made Our Savior, Lord Jesus Christ, say 'forgive them'.

Our God then gives the negroes almost 2000 years to show repentance, turn to Christ and so on, but nothing would change them, so that they would keep on claiming Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were three of theirs and they are Our God's people but wouldn't honor the title. The devil then decided to exterminate them and all those imposters were put down. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob must then have been Phoenicians, not Jews. Still nowadays it is the satanic/black African who govern human kind and decide on everything plus claim to be Our God's people (the African negro men, some 'playing' women. Please notice that Our God's people is the American white native people since at most the extermination of 'The Jews' and the negroes pretend to be those AS WELL. Australia, England and Rio, all Christian places, originally white: the negro is in those pretending to be the native people/race, so that, for Our God, they effectively were obliged to become such but no way on earth, so... . For long they are usurping all religious positions, not only the Christian ones. This time, Our God sent a couple, a male and a female, and made them experience things from inside of the female, just because they claim women are inferior or shouldn't exist or are on the way to their progress. They then saw all things through me, also experienced all things for 3 years and 3 months plus and nothing has proven to be enough. The devil then will destroy human kind and this world in respect to Our God and His son, I imagine.

Today we also concluded the first time usurpation was known to have happened in human kind, which was about 1500 years ago, always all coming from black Africans, that time Nubians, it was all caused by a Nubian/African black male and he had a wife and they were both simply trying to escape slavery in Egypt. They planned that he would go back to pick her up after he succeeded in having something and reaching what is nowadays Israel. Yet she died because of Amen's Wife, a figure that decided between life and death claiming to represent their deity/demon, Amen. He then named the language they invented by means of a Hebrew word and the word is supposed to mean that he is speaking to her and telling her that she worshipped. He did that because the other negroes suggested that after getting to know what had happened to him and being unable to find a way to console him. In this case, the Nubian man had no hate for women and therefore they had nothing to do with the satanic brotherhood, even because they were not simply trying to inflict pain, injury and loss to human kind: they just wanted to be free and didn't think anything else was going to work. This thing of having no heart for women and killing us all/replacing with black African men disguised as women started with the Egyptian men, so that indeed Leinha is correct, there is no worse men on earth (yet those Egyptian men who started it would probably (90% of chance) be descents of the Nubians who usurped Egyptians by the time of Moses, so that effectively they belong to the Nubian subrace). We also observed, we and hell inside of me, that they are not immediately attractive: V-shaped faces, bones everywhere, completely rigid, square and super large jaws, enormous chins, enormous heads and all else. From there we think Leinha is right in one more, which is that Our God's people were also the most blessed in looks and whitest, so that looks do matter for Our God and do mean more connection to heavens.

Here it is worth remembering that, in Indonesia, it was Christus' Indonesia that got decimated, not Christian, since those were Islamic, therefore satanists. Also worth remembering that who got to suffer all those Roman atrocities in Rome soon after the death of Christ was again the Christus' people, not Christians, and there is an extremely high chance they were all negroes..

It is now 80 years since the destruction of those who claimed to be Our God's people to the entire human kind with human kind accepting all that. It is at least 80 years (even though those who are really with Our God and heavens, including Jesus, would have transitioned to America much earlier than that) in which the native American white people should have been regarded as such by human kind. That gave the negro (since it is always them, the African negroes, disguised as white, some as women on top and so on) further 80 years to repent, turn to Our God and Jesus for real, finally learn the difference between evil and good, heavens and hell things and people and so on. Perhaps Our God always goes for those that human kind believes are His people, like considering only those as a basis for decision. In the case of Rio, today we got the message from Jesus, that it was because he believes they have the largest amount of Christians in the human groups that could make a difference in terms of helping us fix all this and human kind. May Our God bless those who do what we ask immediately.

7) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'The Ten Plagues of Egypt that the satanic Invented Were Caused by Our God', 4/6/2025

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qp4znR3kG8Q>, we saw this YouTube and then guessed the 10 plagues had been caused by the black African ex-slaves from Egypt, so that, after some effort guessing how those things had happened, the satanic released the memory token that is relevant and we then saw 'Braganca'/the devil telling us also this one. They caused this all after the Pharaoh got killed by the actual Moses, whose actual story we told in https://www.academia.edu/128494269/Provenance_of_the_Satanic_Brotherhood_A_Few_More_Details, and therefore after they were rid of any possible oppression, since they were best friends and still commanded the Pharaoh's daughter and wife before, during and after his death. Their slavery in Egypt was still so weak as to them being able to simply walk away, 1,200,000 people, and nothing happening to them (600,000 white Phoenicians, who left with the actual Moses, and 600,000 black Africans who would murder and replace Moses' white Phoenicians plus Moses by the height of the sea that was not yet red but would become after all 600,000 people that Moses led, following the instruction of the own black African, jumped in the sea and died from asphyxia, bleeding so much that the negro decided to call that sea Red Sea, name that still persists nowadays).

The link that follows is the medical proof of at least 40% of the people who die by asphyxia from drowning bleeding profusely and we got this because both Co-pilot and ChatGPT, very unfortunately, but perhaps as expected by a few by now, said there is absolutely no blood in the water after death by asphyxia from drowning and that is exactly what we watch in the entire media as well during the term of our lives (about 55 years) apart from the movie of 'Tom Cruise', Minority Report, where this lady dies like that and bleeds just a little bit, all getting quickly dissolved in the water, exactly like both ChatGPT and Co-pilot say it happens: that regardless of the amount of people dying, all gets dissolved super quickly in the sea or water. <https://pmc.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/articles/PMC4603369/>

We are then going to try to guess how the black Africans created all those 10 plagues they themselves talk about in their own bible (which unfortunately until today is known as the Christian bible).

1) Water turned to blood: The Nile River and other water sources turned to blood, making it undrinkable and killing aquatic life. (Co-pilot)

They obviously just did the same because they now knew what would happen, so that they killed a 'hell' lot of Egyptians inside of the Nile and then made a bunch see it soon after drowning those. All water of theirs probably came from the Nile and, even though they had accommodation provided by the Pharaoh's family, they had heard about the Muses' bunch and those had gotten properties soon after arriving in Arabia by killing and taking over, so that they decided to do the same, probably for being told the properties were better or something.

We concluded that those who went to white Arabia (back then, according to a map we found, there was no Israel: it was all Arabia) sent some people to take the Nubian monster's wife (leader of the group) to him after he was in Arabia with his bunch and they then told the others that remained there what had happened in detail, so that the others copied and added to what they had done. The Italian guy goes back to Italy in the same way, so via usurpation of a free person, that is, by murder and theft of ID, and he then starts organized crime in this place/region called Latium back then, a place that invented the Latin language, which then became the language of organized crime in Italy back then. The others, all negros, stay in Egypt and literally set hell there, as they started doing everywhere on earth after at time. The bunch that went to Arabia, split there and some went to Syria. We forgot to add that part to the last paper of ours, which is going to appear soon at the IOSR Humanities Journal, so telling it only here. It might be the case that everyone ALSO in Syria is now an ex-black.

2) Frogs: Frogs swarmed the land, invading homes and fields

They must have been very numerous in Egypt, all in 'nice slavery', though. I do think Egyptians, the native ones, original, must have been best masters ever for slaves, given what we see them doing: entering the Pharaoh's house, being best friends with his wife and daughter, having time for gossip, plotting and all else, therefore being idle for long hours, probably producing nothing. Those in Brazil worked quite a lot, did not have time for anything, were frequently being scoured by whips, were completely watched over by heavily armed guardians and so on, like I don't think it was possible for any black to escape slavery in Brazil that be not by killing their guardians and owners, to the least, imagine simply walking? Anyway, I imagine they had yet another 600,000 there and they then killed similar amount of people in the river, producing the same effect. Since they were so many, after they took over property, they organized themselves to pick up frogs, one each would have been enough, and they then released them in strategic places.

3) Gnats or lice: Dust turned into gnats or lice, afflicting people and animals

They probably put a layer of soil then a layer of gnats then a layer of soil then a layer of lice and so on. The lice they took from themselves, each one got some three or whatever, and the gnats from fruits. Since they were so many, they just needed each one of them to get a few again. After the soil was accumulated in some type of container, each got a pot and sank in the container to fill it up. They then climbed trees and roofs at night, when everyone was in bed, and released the dust by blowing over the pots each time, then tormenting people and animals under the trees or around the houses/establishments.

4) Flies: Swarms of flies filled Egyptian homes and land

The black Africans put rotten meat in boxes of some type and each one of them attracted a certain amount of flies. They then put a few boxes together and took to the targetted location. They then put one black to one end and another to the other. The one to the other, from which the wind was coming, held the piece of rotten meat and the one to the end where the box was released the flies (the meat was already out). Co-pilot talks about 4-7 Km as the range for this to be possible, so for the flies to feel the odour and go after it. 4 km is quite a lot, so that it is all perfectly feasible. Co-pilot also suggests that they could have used cooking oil on the walls of the containers to make it harder for the flies in terms of escaping. Now that we guessed, the satanic gave us the memory token where 'Braganca'/the devil tells us precisely that.

Livestock disease: A severe disease killed Egyptian livestock.

My suggestion here is that the blacks went home by home killing each one of the animals by asphyxia through covering their nostrils until they died. Co-pilot, on this type of death back then: "This scenario seems to raise intriguing questions about how events or actions might be interpreted within historical contexts—especially in eras like 1300 BCE when medical and scientific knowledge was significantly limited compared to modern times. In such a time, causes of death were often attributed to supernatural forces, omens, or mysterious "illnesses," as understanding of anatomy and forensic investigation was virtually nonexistent.

If the cause of death was asphyxiation due to nostril obstruction, it might have been assumed as a sudden illness or curse rather than identifying deliberate human involvement." The own blacks could have spread rhetoric about all these events, since they were usurping as Egyptians/locals, so that the reason for them to think it was a disease must have been the blacks spreading this.

6) Boils: Painful boils broke out on Egyptians and their animals.

Co-pilot says they had metallic needles in Egypt from 1300 BCE, so that the black Africans went on visiting the home of their targets, just like they do these days, at night, by the time they know nobody wakes up, for some reason, apparently between 2 and 4 am. They then had boils and prickled their skin to put the holes in contact with their boils. They had pus on them, what made contamination way more likely. They did the same to the animals. Here you have what Co-pilot says about boils: "Boils themselves are not directly contagious, but the bacteria that cause them, typically Staphylococcus aureus (staph), can be spread from person to person. If someone comes into contact with the pus or fluid from an infected boil, they could potentially develop a boil or another type of infection if the bacteria enter their skin through a cut, scrape, or other opening".

7) Hail: A destructive hailstorm ruined crops and killed anyone or anything left outdoors.

How they made ice in the desert in ancient times:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NZb0ZgMBf1w>.

Here it is about Egypt in particular as well as others: <https://www.reddyice.com/the-chilling-history-of-ice/#:~:text=Around%20500%20BC%2C%20the%20Egyptian,night%20temperatures%2C%20froze%20the%20water>

The blacks broke the ice blocks they got from the yakhchāls, each one getting a big chunk of ice and doing that. They then accumulated those, just like they did with the flies and the others and they then attacked people and places that were outdoors. They probably did that from the roofs and trees again. They probably got the ice during the night. They had to kill those outdoors because otherwise they could find out and tell others.

8) Locusts: Locusts consumed all remaining crops and vegetation.

The blacks do the same again: they go to the bush, capture a few each (Co-pilot confirms that it is possible to grab those from the bush), put them together in pots and other blacks go to the crops at night and throw them there. Co-pilot says that, even outside of swarming times, the locusts will devastate crops if poured over those.

9)Darkness: A thick darkness covered Egypt for three days.

They would have done that with fog from burning bitumen, since Co-pilot says the Egyptians had access to large deposit of such element, which seems very similar to coal, therefore burns and produces smoke. Co-pilot calculates that, if 600,000 people carried about 10-15 Kg of bitumen each, therefore about the weight of a 5 year old average kid, to strategic locations in Egypt ("Positioning: The people would need to spread across a vast area of Egypt to achieve the illusion of pervasive darkness. For maximum impact, they could target populated urban centers, administrative hubs, and agricultural regions along the Nile River—essentially places where people lived and worked. The concentration of burning would need to be densest in areas most reliant on sunlight for daily activities." "Burning Sites: The burning could take place in elevated locations or large open areas to allow the smoke to spread and linger. Strategic sites might include the edges of settlements, central squares, or hilltops (if available), ensuring that smoke dispersed widely over the affected regions". The blacks then took over this deposit by usurping the existences of the owners/carers and that is how they could 'afford' such a thing. They would have transported them by land, I think, (now that I guessed, the satanic are giving me a glimpse of memory, but I can't be sure this time about the memory, again 'Braganca/the devil), so from the deposit to each one of their 'homes'." "The bitumen could be sourced locally or imported. Ancient Egyptians did have access to bitumen deposits, such as from Gebel Zeit near the Gulf of Suez or trade routes connected to regions around the Dead Sea. Transporting such vast quantities would require monumental organization—using caravans, boats, or other methods of distribution."

10) Death of the firstborn: The firstborn of every Egyptian family and livestock died, while the Israelites were spared.

The blacks did what they still do, which is splitting places into sectors, similar to how 'Henry' did to us when we were doing cancer fundraising for the Cancer & Bowel Research Trust (some blacks who figured as blacks were behind him, we found out later on, so that that was THEIR SYSTEM), so say 4 blocks per head, and they then started making rounds at that time of the night when people are supposed to never wake up, for reasons unknown to us. They checked rooms to see if the couple had kids already and checked the belly of the wife to see if it was pregnant and how soon the delivery would happen as well. They checked the animals and saw which one had given birth recently. They then probably did the asphyxia thing by blocking nostrils each time, since that worked before and they all thought it was disease just because of the rhetoric the blacks spread, otherwise they would probably think it was a curse. We guessed, so that the satanic gave us a glimpse of memory and 'Braganca/the devil told us exactly that.

We found out the Italian who was in slavery at the same time as the Nubian couple who generate all problems in Arabia and Egypt were, so time of Moses, was there because of trade. 'Braganca/the devil (I guessed then they gave a glimpse of memory) said something like the father of his was the trader but he gave his son to pay for his debt, so the son in slavery. Back then, people could get arrested for not paying their debts in Egypt (Co-pilot).

Last night we concluded that there must be a copy of the original book of the Phoenicians in one of the libraries of Tunisia, since they left that little book in Israel. That book should contain the correct story of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, so save the Tunisian libraries from them, please! Let's get there and find this book before they destroy all copies or something.

It seems that the Jews were always the black Africans, so that Jesus was dealing with black Africans all the time, which then explains how he would go to the temple/assembly place, try to teach the scriptures, fixing them, discuss those with the teachers, but, even though they would listen, they wouldn't fix or change anything, since that is precisely the attitude of the black Africans/black African descents all the time during our lifeterm, cariocas being just a part of those. Our Jesus, Our Savior, however, was white and he was then raised by a white couple and came out of a white woman who, then, just as we guessed before, was not a Jewish person at all. Same with the husband, Joseph. They were probably scared of the blacks/Jews and didn't attend the temples where they were at all. Jesus dared going there because he came to teach them the right thing, since they were claiming to be Our God's people, as said before.

When they appeared in the Occident, they were already whitened. There is then something with the name Jew, Jewish, Judaism, Judaic, like one of those games with words, which we have not yet found out. The song that is the only one Christians may life from their religious repertoire is Hava Nagila and that one can only have come inside of the book of the Phoenicians where they initially saw the correct biography of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. It must have spelled the musical notes and all else to them.

During the night, exposed to severe voice torture, we got to a few conclusions regarding language or we did that yesterday before bed, sorry if I cannot remember. 'Cara', in Rio de Janeiro, is a term Leinha invented in order for the 'cariocas' to say 'come here, Ra' and believe they are not asking to have the Ra involved with them, so the same as 'Is-Ra-El'. Then we worked out they used that as a code: after spreading that was the same thing as saying 'man' in the USA became (negro stuff), and 'tche' in Rio Grande do Sul, and 'mate' in Australia, and getting all locals believing that was a good thing, which facilitated communication, since one would not anymore have to know the name of the person they speak to to communicate/gain intimacy, they started using it in front of people there to say kill this one. So, for instance, Leinha would say to her friend, 'Volga', in front of me or someone from Rio, 'cara, como e que 'ce ta?' 'to bem, Leinha, muito bem, e a Claudia' 'e, cara, a Claudia, cara...' and that would be enough to get Claudia killed. In Australia, 'mate' means kill in Portuguese, so that people would write emails to each other or say in front of the locals 'I have 3 mates: mate Jill, mate Carl and mate Sonia. They all live with me'. The other would say: but are they really your mates? (so, your kills or something) and they would say yes, like we are just trying to guess how the thing works. As for 'Tche', 'Nelson' would have invented that there, where he stayed, probably in honor of Che Guevara, whose name he mentioned to me in an enthusiastic way. See here: "Guevara preached Marxist-Leninist ideas and did not hesitate to defend them through violent and illegal techniques, such as murder or trials that lasted less than an hour and did not adhere to any constitutional practice. He was a proponent of labor camps, known as Military Units to Aid Production, where homosexuals were imprisoned as part of a persecution technique that mimicked communist practices in Eastern Europe, as Che considered homosexuality contrary to his ideal of the "new man." These labor camps were true concentration camps, where the Cuban government also adopted the Auschwitz motto "work sets you free," replacing it with "work will make them men," as they believed that forced labor for many hours would correct their homosexual behavior." (https://cubadecide.org/was-che-guevara-good-or-bad/?lang=en&gad_source=1&gclid=CjwKCAjwzMi_BhACEiwAX4YZUGdZuNBWZWvSeHW_1GZkYbXOJFwk0MOu4PCR-Uj6ffZ-1AbZA-twKBoCilEQAvD_BwE) On the same page, we see 2 versions of Tche, so two different men playing 'him'. It can only be the same as always: a guy who was initially super Christian and who they cowardly murder, usurp and then make become a monster. Again, 'Nelson' could be in front of locals and say 'tem que ter um tche, tche Marcos nisso' and that would mean death to him, perhaps his family together with him, like it is apparently very hard to find actual material about the life of 'Che'. A quote on Wikipedia lets it clear that researchers tried even for a few years and only found decent killing for his biography or something: "I have yet to find a single credible source pointing to a case where Che executed "an innocent". Those persons executed by Guevara or on his orders were condemned for the usual crimes punishable by death at times of war or in its aftermath: desertion, treason or crimes such as rape, torture or murder. I should add that my research spanned five years, and included anti-Castro Cubans among the Cuban-American exile community in Miami and elsewhere. —Jon Lee Anderson, author of Che Guevara: A Revolutionary Life, PBS forum[133]" (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Che_Guevara). He was obviously as barbarian as the rest of them (their Hitler, their Communist precursors, etc.), since he had even the same fields where people are forced to work (ironically they are this race that is a pest, only parasites, people who don't have minimum joy with producing, working and so on), like same thing as their Hitler...

We also think that 'sh..', which they made be used at large in the USA and even elsewhere, is an invocation to the 'shiite' method of killing people or something (https://www.amazon.com.au/dp/1557864705?ref_=mr_referred_us_au_au). They then can say something like: 'my wife came up with suspicions to me today regarding my best friend, Carlos. I say: sh.. on her! sh.. on her, man.' That would mean a request to replace or kill her, I now reckon. The rest of the people are then induced to use and accept this word as good and as only way to express feelings of that type.

A time ago, the USA was still using 'asle', which is the one I had learned, but now the blacks changed it into 'ass hole'. 'Asle', we found out yesterday, is for 'asse-o' or something, so roast him in Portuguese. They could then say, 'Adam is an asse-o' and that be a command for them to roast him, so to cook him alive or something, the Baal thing (we now think lots of wonderful, white native American Christian men died in this way, so cooked alive or something).

'you are a dog', we think 'dog' connects to 'cachorro' from 'jogo do bicho' in Rio, which is to signal to killing only people of a certain type, say workers, so there might have been a day of kill and someone might have a list where the 'dogs' go accumulating so that they kill them all on that particular day or something.

"In pre-Islamic Arabia, Jewish tribes were often referred to by their tribal names, such as Banu Qurayza, Banu Nadir, and Banu Qaynuqa. These tribes were prominent in regions like Yathrib (now Medina) and played significant roles in the social and economic fabric of the area. Judaism was one of the few monotheistic religions in the region at the time, contrasting with the polytheistic practices of many Arab tribes." Tribes makes sense to us and that makes sense of the thing involving tribes of the 'bible'.

Since I guessed, the satanic just let me have my token of memory: 'Braganca'/the devil said that, after they came from Egypt, the Muses' people then, they were always apart from the rest of the population of Arabia and locals started noticing that. Up to that time, they must have been called these names, which we just quoted. He says one of them, so of the Arabs, approached them and asked if they had a religion. They then remembered the book they had left at the library (apparently they build the Old Testament and put it at the same place where they had found the book of the Phoenicians, so on the library shelf, but didn't touch it anymore) and said they did. That the person then asked them if they didn't have service, like they did. They then decided to organize service and rites and all else. I watched them dance recently, a chair above the head thing, apparently for marriages, and men on top of each other as if in a pyramid, going around in circles. I found all that weird, which then adds to their looks, specially hair and beards, but also the black thing and others. So, that is how the Judaic religion appeared.

"The word for "Jewish" in Hebrew is יהודי (Yehudi) for a male and יהודייה (Yehudiya) for a female. It refers to someone who is part of the Jewish people or practices Judaism. " (Co-pilot) It is just that Yehudi, so those 'Hebrew' symbols, mean 'majesty', exactly what is meant by them all the time: that they are kings and everyone else is their vassal/slave. See here: <https://en.wiktionary.org/wiki/%D7%94%D7%95%D7%93>

Pyramid thing: I guessed at night and the satanic gave me the memory token for this one. A white guy was passing by Egypt and saw all those people without where to live, no houses, no constructions, so that I imagine they camped or something. The guy saw that, in that area, they had lots of stones, so that he started thinking how one could build a structure that allowed people to live inside and be protected against all weather conditions. He then played with stones and got to the shape of the pyramid, so that it was a white man, obviously white Christian man, who taught them how to build houses like that.

Judaism comes from Judas Iscariot. Iscariot is to sound like 'is'+ 'caro'+ 'iota' (Co-pilot says they sound the same): that is Latin for 'is'+ 'meat/flesh'+ 'little'. יהודה is Judas in Hebrew and that means 'praised' (<https://www.studylight.org/lexicons/eng/hebrew/3063.html>). That is because they always made provisions for Our God to send someone, probably because the book of the Phoenicians said that Our God would send his son at a certain stage. Iscariota was to say their flesh is little, so for the others not to eat them. They apparently had no food for long, stayed there, in 'Israel', border of Arabia, but didn't know how to fish and didn't have equipment, didn't know how to swim either. They didn't know the local language and had no money, despite having the properties they stole via usurpation, so that they effectively ate people. In this case, they made provisions of the type sending one of them, so one of the Iscariots to betray Jesus or whoever Our God sent (that is also in perfect alignment with thinking that the God's Wife of Egypt was indeed the wife of Our God or the wife of the demon Amen, so for them to expect a human being. Judas would be the one to be praised because he would finish with the Savior of Our God, as they have done. Who did all was them but they then invented that there were apostles and Judas was one of them instead of telling the truth, which was that they were negros, the others were whites, so that they stayed at a distance observing and finally made their Caiaphas get Jesus where they knew he was.

Who meets and greets in the way the black Africans described in their bible being men (Judas and Jesus) is the Arabic people, as I thought, not really The Jewish, like men kiss on the cheeks when they are Arabic only. That means Our Jesus spoke Arabic, not Aramaic or Hebrew but who told the story was the Hebrew people for the reasons we already know. See here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1TDQ3yYwJVI> We now think Our Jesus, Our Savior, spoke at least Phoenician, Aramaic and Latin, but we actually believe he spoke all languages, since the Roman Empire spoke Latin and probably spoke Latin during the trial and Day of Grace event. The satanic probably got the Italian group, their close friends, to teach Latin to the Roman Empire for believing they would be in Jerusalem by the time Jesus were or they manipulated things so that would happen. That would be because otherwise the Arabic would dominate the place and could therefore save Our Jesus. Since Latin was one of their languages and they already had the criminal group of the same nature in Italy, they used the whites from that group to usurp Caiaphas, Pilate, Cezar, Longinus and so on. With all being said in Latin and the audience replaced with 'their people', those from Italy in part, plus the council of the Jews, majority, plus those we have already mentioned, none of the Arabic would be able to vote and therefore Our Jesus would be condemned exclusively by the satanic brotherhood, since they had managed to exterminate the Phoenicians and all else. Here:

<https://culturalatlas.sbs.com.au/israeli-culture/israeli-culture-greetings#:~:text=Israeli%20Culture&text=Handshakes%20are%20the%20typical%20greeting,avoid%20physical%20contact%20with%20men>. It is on paragraph number 4: Jewish men always give handshakes instead!!! Our Lord is great! Our Lord is priceless! Our God has proven in all ways that there is only them!!!

See here that the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood has always done the same: This came from the last website I mentioned, which describes 'Israeli' culture. See: "It is common for people to address one another as 'ahi' (also spelt as 'achi' or 'ahki'), which is slang for a brother or friend (but literally means 'my brother')." Not really: the sound means 'here'/'aqui' in Portuguese (see <https://bible.knowing-jesus.com/strong/H277>). That just means only the location matters and they are all the same, so replace with someone else from their pack and it will be 'the same', as we see is how their thinking/rhetoric goes. In Hebrew, this greeting means 'יהי' and, according to https://www.academia.edu/31206740/THE_ORIGIN_OF_THE_ANCIENT_HEBREW_ALPHABET and <https://www.meru.org/Sufi/alphacha.html>, this means Ox-fenced-hand, which then has to mean that each has got an Ox fenced in their hands, which means the locals are all controlled/monitored/commanded by them or subdued, so it is a way of saying to each other that they are Kings and everyone else where they are is their slave.

The beard we see here, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MKzOn5LFyXM>, seems to be what the 'Jews' are wearing now and we think that might be a symbol for the people where they come from, so the usurpers from now. <https://www.istockphoto.com/photo/sadhu-yogi-gm1219048151-356450471> the yogis in India seem to exhibit this beard. 'Nelson' told me about faquirs from India and I think those may also have these beards. See here: <https://www.istockphoto.com/photos/faquir> Also <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fakir> and <https://au.pinterest.com/pin/22166223155793741/> and <https://www.deezer.com/en/album/566104131>

Notice that we have already talked about Mohammed in one of our papers, https://www.academia.edu/127998670/Devil_x_God_3_200_Plus_Years_of_Huge_Losses, and he is from Arabia. As we said, he was praying to Our God in the cave, so that Our Jesus, Our Savior, left a very good impression with the Arabs, which persisted until the time of Mohammed that is, more than 500 years after the death of Christ. Notice that, for the Arabs, Our Jesus Christ is known as Īsā al-Masīḥ, or Jesus, the Messiah, or Jesus, the annointed one. That is certainly respect. Then what we reported on the paper just mentioned was that Mohammed got attacked by the satanic brotherhood, was murdered in the cave and replaced with an imposter, and it was that imposter who imposed Islam to Arabia, nobody else and he imposed it, through what I imagine was lots of violence, perhaps unreported, since they had at least 300,000 descents of the Muses' bunch to count on, so extremely cruel, coward and criminal black Africans that supported all they were doing, those from the satanic brotherhood.

Twin in me and Jesus in us got the right message of Leinha and 'Nelson': the truth is both. Both endings will happen. We noticed that the YouTube does not mention the 144,000. However, it says that all Christians will be killed via invisible laser and, later on, those that remain, so after all those so varied and numerous attacks over human kind, if they don't convert to Christianity, they will also be taken. We then now calculate that those remaining at that stage will be the 'Egyptians' (who we now think we are sure are actually the members of the Nubian race who usurped in Egypt by the time of Muses), the 144,000, and they will be converted via head bug, 666, so that they will be virgin, no sin, in slavery, and converted to Christianity, when their rapture should happen. In this way, both told us the truth and it all matches the YouTube that has the purpose of letting us know how they are organizing things. We saw something about underground cities that have been used by Christians in the past, so that they could escape persecution. That was a place in Turkey. They say it can house 20,000 people. Yet there seems to be no water source, no food source, air entrance ways have been shut, quite a few, and it is hard to imagine a healthy environment if people are going to poo and pee there. Here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WZGzrBUpUps> That is Derinkuyu. We saw another video where they say they are talking about this place and showing it but it all then looks maginificent inside, so that that is the satanic version of this video. We notice that even walking inside of the thing is complicated and threatens the body health. The other day they showed a cave in Vietnam (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=87Jor5G_NB&t=97s). That one had water source in it, fish to eat inside of the water source, had plenty of air circulating inside because the entrance was enormous, the soil seemed to be floffy and therefore we could dig holes easily to pee and poo, but getting there is extremely complicated, and it is through the bush, plus Vietnam is full of underground mines, which can easily take our legs, for instance, what frequently happens to locals. That is definitely not good either. We now remember one of them saying that Vietnam would be the best they would 'give us'. We know New York has an underground place where the satanic currently keep human beings who are alive in phase out and that is a place with air entrance and a room straight away, big one, as soon as you enter. That is in Wall Street Square apparently. We published here but we don't have the time to try to find the post and the satanic wipe off everything, so that this is the best we can do. The entrance is a corner next to the entrance to the subway. In fact, it is the same entrance, it seems. I was there once in person only. There seems to be a door easily found to the right of those going down, already on the first set of steps, first block of steps, then already in. You would need food and then you are probably going to be stuck with eating the people who are still alive and in drawers there, therefore not only you will have to kill but you would still have to eat human flesh, probably uncooked. There is obviously still time, since they haven't yet started not even their antichrist thing. There was an attempt with 'Trump', but we had a story and made him do it, so that he started doing the bible thing instead. There is now an attempt with 'Elon' it seems, since they showed his face as that of a devil in one YouTube recently. You see: if there is no antichrist, they shouldn't be able to do it. Yet we do need to be saved and human kind and this world can only be restored in full and properly if you save us and if it is through us, since Our God determined things would be that way. We have already told you many times here and all ways we can what has to be done. They are now doing the story of the satanic Christ. That is apparently to help. We can't be sure. Yet, help from hell is always incomplete or injury, for obvious reasons. <https://www.scribd.com/user/852238643/drmarciapinheiro> (again here what to do to help us save this world and human kind, as we came to do). It is 200 million mechanical horses and we are then theorizing that is probably for our beloved America, our heart place and origin. We are thinking they need a place to hide those, we are sure they have already been built, and we theorize they are probably underground. Even though the Chinese just put a video on YouTube to say they are not joining, we are all bugged, so that their will is irrelevant. If they planned it is going to be them, then it will unless you help. Why there is a price for us to save you, we don't know, but, with Jesus, it was the same: we needed to protect him from the satanic, we needed to have found out that during the plot or even as they are executing. On that occasion, it was the Arabs who had a choice, at most the good Romans or possibly dissident satanic. Now it is Cariocas, at most the good Australians or possibly dissident satanic. Anyway, we are noticing there is always a price, a something humanity has to do for it to be saved, so that, just like Jesus, we depend on you. We know how his human existence ended and that should represent strategic advantage, since we can think better, specially now that we have investigated so much and showed you what really happened back then.

The leaders of the world have already met in Israel, the special gates have already been opened and the red cow, or whatever that is, has already appeared in Israel, so that 3 of the things that mark the start of the end of times from the satanic brotherhood bible have already happened. They put it all on YouTubes.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0zTuSrx5XfI>, 27 underground cities all over the world: China, USA, Finland and other places. It looks like there would be enough places for everyone who could be connected to our 'head line', yet we must remember that we are all bugged, so that they can simply press buttons and we all die from a sudden/apocalyptic heart attack, like regardless of where we hide. Besides, if they miss even one of us, one outside of the 144,000 Egyptians, those might not make it and their plan is ruined, so that we don't think they will not press the buttons at time 'x', whatever time that is. May Our God bless those who do what we say immediately.

8) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'No Penis Syndrome: An African Thing, the Satanic Again', 3/1/2025

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8YLEcgdakeEA>, Leinha told me about this one, I now vaguely recall. Since they put that to psychiatry (Koro Syndrome, https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/7815608/#:~:text=Abstract,abdomen%2C%20which%20will%20cause%20death.,1995)), that means it was all made exclusively via bug and the penises did not actually disappear, as the presenter described. They probably decreased in size, however, since that can definitely be done via head bug/666. All the men suffering from this were then Al Qaeda slaves. Leinha did tell me the reason for her to do that to them but I don't actually remember. In this case, the people they belonged to just proved that they definitely deserve this sort of curse from the devil and his creatures because they have no judgement, yet rely on themselves to apply penalties that are, more than likely, not legally acceptable even there at that stage, namely that of burning people alive to death (together with their assets). If they thought that was a curse, they should know those can only be given by Our Lord (the devil at most commits crime against us) and therefore they would have to turn to Him more deeply, more of them, pray in the ways Our God prescribed and we told you about and ask Jesus to give them guidance and enlightenment (that is a request made by the individual, it cannot be by a group or through a leader: it is very important to observe that Our God works with individuality, each one of us, which is why each one of us has a physical matter that does not physically mix with any other to the molecular level: our souls are attached to that unique and limited physical matter or biology, individual souls, for, in Our God's world, we progress individually unless we have reached a true God's coupleship, rather than existing in an attempt of becoming such, since then Jesus may give us a single soul, as it is our case) instead of thinking of themselves as Our God and usurping one of His powers in a situation like that. If God were in them, they wouldn't have misjudged and destroyed the only body and opportunity in that unique biology of those 'brothers of the cross': it looks like they crucify Jesus over and over there, like they choose the marginal to be released, to go lose, and Jesus to die burnt alive. May the curse be on them indeed. I will bet the 'brothers' were all whites, since this order seems to belong to France:

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Brothers_of_the_Cross_of_Jesus So, this is always happening when whites try to visit the places originally of the black peoples and bring them something whites judge is really good, such as Christianity, Christ, who was also white. Our God paints our bodies for a purpose and while white is associated with all colors of the rainbow, who everyone feels attracted to and sees delight in, black is associated with the absence of light instead: that is to tell human kind about the level they are spiritually speaking as they come to life on Earth (hell is associated with black and darkness, heavens is associated with white and light). We must try no more, the whites: the devil has taught us. Our God has all wisdom and knowledge and He decided therefore wisely: they are biologically marked to immediately learn they are in the lowest possible level of spiritual progression as they stare at themselves in the mirror, so that that works as the biological markers of Lombroso, which would let them know they will end up being serial killers if they don't do anything they should, and do very quickly, about it. They have to then know the most superior level of spiritual evolution is that of whoever arrived on Earth as white and they must now change their skin color through the mechanical angel to start showing they really mean that they want to progress, when they should then find ways of synchronizing their spirit with our vibes, the vibes of those they see are closer to what Our God wants or expects, so that they have to find ways to develop wisdom or simply connect deeply to Jesus and Our God and humble themselves enough in order to ask Jesus to help them after acquiring a pure heart and a clean soul. Whites should not be where they originally are anymore, please, unless they are really choosing to regress in the spiritual realm, like it is only OK if they really know what they are doing, please, when they should be mindful of all possible consequences, including these things that frequently happen to missionaries in Africa (many whites got replaced there, to mention another). To be sincere with you, I think Leinha said that the black men are very proud of their organ, so of their penises: that is then the devil disciplining human kind. They were thinking of their penises as a separate entity to their bodies and were not willing to connect to their souls while using them, therefore they were consciously choosing to turn away from the light. We must here remember what Jesus said: Forgive those who don't know what they are doing, like, if they know, the story is another. If you analyze the thinking and life, therefore spirit and deeds of those affected by the No Penis Syndrome, you will probably conclude they were the ones who were most distant from the light as possible, so maybe they were like the whores and had one offs instead of engaging in a marriage in Our God's ways (God's coupleship, so no betrayals allowed, of any type, no disloyalty, the wife must be sexually happy and so on). Yet, this will be over, so the syndrome, by the time we are running the nth Marcia Hope, the goods of the mechanical angel. May God bless!

9) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Alien Hand Syndrome: the satanic Strike Again', 3/1/2025

<https://pmc.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/articles/PMC4059570/>, the brotherhood attacks again: now their 666 or Mechanical Curses are once more in our Medical science. They say we have an 'alien hand syndrome' or a 'Dr Strangelove Syndrome' and that is a title that should immediately make us see that it is coming from them, the Al Qaeda branch of the satanic brotherhood: they have always pretended to be aliens when attacking via spaceships and who was strange love is obviously satan, since that is actually hate. Yet, only if the individual is truly connected to heavens will they notice that upon staring at it for the first time, so that Our God is fair: only those who really really follow His rules get the tokens of wisdom that He plants in our biology, nature or letters. I think it was Leinha who told me about this once more. I find it really interesting that the victims get heard by several and are believed, to the point of the Al Qaedas having to produce medical science explaining that, like anyone else would be advised to visit psychiatrists or psychologists. These chosen victims must be more connected to Our God than the rest of the people around them, that probably being the reason as to why Leinha would choose this particular woman, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8YLEcgdakEA>, for this type of attack: Testing them, studying how Our God supports His followers and so on. May God bless!

10) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Paranormal Marriage: One More Hell-Sent', 3/1/2025

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OfEkG0GIZ6k>, 'Braganca' told me about this one. I believe they dropped him by car after he took the marriage ring from the groom's pocket. Since he was bugged, they knew of the marriage, date and time, that he would go on his own by car and that the wedding ring was in pocket x. Al Qaeda then calculated the impact of the acts of theirs before they perpetrated and put the kangaroo on the road (so probably bugged the kangaroo and moved it), when the groom's car hit it and the accident followed. Al Qaeda calculated he would die but even so they would have checked, I reckon. I then believe it would have been 'Nelson' doing that part once more. The usurper was with him and grabbed the ring, the usurper was already in 'character', so with the looks Al Qaeda imagined he could have if suffering such an accident. 'Braganca' was driving the car, more than likely, as 'Nelson' and the usurper jumped in. He then drove the car up to nearby the location, they made sure there was nothing and nobody around and dropped the 'groom' close to the church but far enough for nobody who was inside of it to see the drop. They then calculated nobody would come out of the church and go where they dropped him. That was obviously to satanize the marriage of the Christian woman: to make her marry a creature from hell (also with the looks of hell, since we saw the words used to describe his looks) instead of her heavenly husband. That is a statement from the devil: that the Christian woman doesn't have enough connection with Jesus not even to have enough discernment in order to be able to tell the true husband/God-Sent from an imposter (notice that there would be several ways to tell: his decisions, his actions, his looks, his narrative, his clothes (like she could at least know his clothes by heart and in detail if she were the most regressed of the women on Earth, of those who only do what is regarded as housewife's duties in Brazil: the usurper was wearing his own clothes) and so on). I judge like this, since I am here just guessing, even though Al Qaeda let me have part of my memory already, because I only found one church for Australia, St Paul's, like the closest one to Our God, and therefore it is very likely the woman wouldn't be a true Christian and therefore would get confused. If I had judged that she were a true Christian, then I would say she was bugged as well and Al Qaeda did the satanic thing and used her 666 in order to nullify her natural judgemental abilities. Notice that the couple was not in a Our God's Couleship, in this case. I thought explaining further was unnecessary, but the Vacas imposed new challenge: the usurper usurped just for that amount of time, until he disappeared from the car. As we saw, the ID died after that. He would have been really quick and simply ran away after the car stopped, probably a bit before it came to a complete stop, so that she wouldn't notice (like someone who is tormented with the accident is probably staring at another side or something). May God bless!

11) YouTube: Marcia Pinheiro, 'Yesterday Feet' (leftmost image, -1-), Jan 21, 2017, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=f-OOH2w0UOY>, 'Yesterday Feet' (rightmost image, -2-), Jan 21, 2017, and 'Little Foot Issue' (image that is on its own on the row, -3-), Aug 14, 2016, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ifmMLKdJXcg>

"This is much better than what it was in Sydney, since I had already used the machine a few times when I got these images, but then imagine how it was there... . I could barely walk. I was still carrying heavy bag and also my shoulder got a burning sensation."

The satanic transgenders from Rio, who still attack nowadays, attacking my feet and lower legs back then through the 666. -1- and -2- are images from the same day (you notice the legs coming back to normal shape in the picture to the right). I was in Adelaide, working for several excellent companies in Interpreting, and, on this particular day, I went to do a job a bit far from where I lived (I lived in the CBD there because the price of accommodation was much lower than in Sydney and I could then rent even a furnished place with airconditioning and all else, which was an apartment, not a studio, so great living standards there were compared to those in Sydney). It took me about 30 minutes to go from the CBD to there. I did the job and came back. On the way back, some problem with transport and I was walking home. The satanic then attacked me by the time I was leaving the supermarket: the feet and lower leg were so inflated that my heels could not cope with them anymore. I had to undress the shoes. The levels were about at least twice of what you see above, in -1-. I went to the shoe maker to ask him if he could help. I did not know what to do. I showed him my feet. They seemed nice people, right in front of the supermarket, middle of the rectangle. I lived on the last street, next to the park, and that was South Terrace. I think it was a Coles that is closest to the corner between Franklin Street and Morphett Street when one is going down to South Terrace from Franklin. When I arrived home, the feet and the legs were already much much better, but still in the way you see them above. -3- shows my feet and lower leg closer to what they used to be on normal days, so on days the satanic wouldn't attack them much. I again undergo this type of torture/destruction, so on 11/04/2025. It has now been probably one month with the satanic inflating my feet and occasionally someone deflating them at night. Now they engaged in another type of feet/leg combo attack, when they leave part of the upper skin of the foot in place and inflate only the rest. I notice they used similar strategy when stretching the pieces of my torso: they stretched it by the layers until it was all flaccid and in folds, as we usually see in black Africans. I believe the feet attack are to produce similar effect, when the feet deform and perhaps are irreversibly destroyed. They flattened them and made me be unable to wear heels as well, so that all these things are things that can be done through 666 plus a lot extra. I again assume it is to make me have the looks of the most deformed black African, since these problems appear with frequency in them, so flat feet, unable to wear heels and so on. They also did many other things to me through the 666, but just to mention other two allowances/possibilities of the bug in those regards, things they have done to me, they made my legs form an inverted Y and then joined the upper legs. They also seem to have broken my hips bones to destroy the feminine curves of my body (I had very nice hips, feminine). When I was in Adelaide, they made me have a bad fall one day when I was arriving home and I never fall that far when I walk. They made one of ankles twist together with the foot when I was wearing heels, a move I thought could have broken my ankle. Later on I accompanied several cases of catwalk women falling in a very similar way ([31]-[35] give you an idea: it might be possible to prove that accidents never happened before like that or at all on the catwalk, so before 2017, when I think they got to this 'trick' and then applied on me first. My feet went just like we see theirs going: I reckon it was both legs wiggling actually, like first left, then both. Mines went like a snake or something, like full of curves, yet they can give us any style of fall, so all these I give to you here plus extra, even the model that doesn't seem to see the end of the catwalk was probably moved via bug not to see it. Co-pilot knows of two of the worst cases: "Lindsey Wixson retired from runway modeling in 2017 due to foot injuries caused by high heels. She had previously fallen at Versace's shows and sprained her ankle during a rehearsal for Jean Paul Gaultier's couture show. Additionally, Abbey Lee Kershaw tore a ligament in her knee after falling at Rodarte's show"), so that I was sure they were attacking them via 666 and they were bugged. At least once the attack was followed by stalking by a male, who then pretends to be nice and help, probably taking advantage of the situation later on and having the satanic sisterhood's 'Edmandos' (as we call those who handle our enslaved brain in order to force us to do things, force us to feel emotions, including sexual arousal, hate and so on) pressing buttons on her (one of the catwalk models who fell in public). I believe this sort of thing finishes with their career, so that the man who helped would probably become her 'king of home' and provider. They may actually have had bad injury following that as well. They were all in heels and the YouTubes let me see a few of those. That was then very close to this time.

12) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, 'Witchcraft and Payman', 3/21/25

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wnlvYfanKxk>, Leinha told me about this one. She said she liked this man and that is why they invented 'payman' for him, like he would believe he had magical powers. Since this seems to have happened in 2020 and it was more than 20 years before that when she spoke to me about this man, I assume his life is all programmed in the computer, so his thinking, everything, and, in this case, perhaps it is an experience, so perhaps several men go through that, like it doesn't have to be just him. I noticed he said he did not study at all and I then think the gain that the satanic have is the same we talked about before: we don't progress in this incarnation, our lives are simply wasted, on top of us investing in going to hell, like, in his case, he is associated with demoniac stuff, so witchcraft, and he even says demon plus the video says 'pact with a demon'. The satanic then did all that through him using the 666, so the exam and everything else. Now, the paper that doesn't burn is a bit of a puzzle, even though she would have told me: I believe they control him in all senses through the bug and either they force him through programming to buy special paper, which doesn't burn, so the material it is made of, or they spread a product of some type, so that it doesn't. I would love him to have come back from the exam and checked if he could 'finally' burn the piece of paper, but they obviously wouldn't give us this chance, like I imagine it would still not burn, for it would be the material or the product on it, and that would finally make him find a bit of personal space, despite the 666.

I also think the presenter is originally a black man: man because of the jaw and black because of the nose (I now believe they chisel a little to the sides of the central bone and that is why it looks so weird/unnatural, that line that ends up on nostrils that expand as if they were those of a negro man). I think I remember Leinha telling me they operate eyes and all else in order to look more like the target. Our God doesn't have any mercy. It is only Jesus. May Our God bless those who do what we ask immediately.

13) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, 'Brainwashing, Invisible Laser, Satanic Brotherhood/Sisterhood Levels and Numbers: Latest, Christian News on the Enemy's Advancements', 3/17/25

We concluded that, with the news on the airplane crashing and people surviving, the ones we recently talked about, the enemy succeeded in at least temporarily deceiving us, top Our God's people, Twins of Our God: we did believe, in a first moment, that the airplane got all destroyed (picture given) but a few still survived (text given). It was only at night yesterday that twin in me and Jesus in us gave us the right wisdom token: the enemy succeeded in brainwashing human kind in such a way that we care more about the text than the image, when the default in human kind is the opposite, as we know far too well (<https://neurolaunch.com/photopsychology/> for instance), such a thing having been advertised by several vehicles for a long time usually through a 'sentence of effect', such as 'a picture is worth a thousand words'. Such brainwashing could be as easy as an instruction being passed to the entire human kind via satellite, 'words mean way more than images, whenever there is conflict, prefer words'.

Also the example involving the airplane crash and the male 'Nelson' decapitates in front of the other two: the satanic, this far, were unable to brainwash slaves with a new narrative if there were real time images showing facts in their brain (they are able to delete from your conscious memory those memories through their enveloping of memories (when they choose two points of your 'memory roll' and glue them, so that everything in the middle is inaccessible, and they then impose new imagistic sequence to the top of the envelope, so that you lose your timeline but will go and find that set of images as a reference for event x. They did that in my case and I am unable to tell what happened to me in any age of life, even last year or even two days ago and, if people insist with a date, I always go to the mark 9yo or 5yo, when I still have a couple of things I know happened for sure for odd reasons. They never saw any utility, instead of harm, in me reporting facts of my life to others, so that, in my case, they have used this technique several times. It seems to me that they got this technique from usurping MKULTRA material, namely Manchurian Candidate material), but you then lose your timeline, which means that people could eventually, specially with repetition of reports, realize what is done, and the person loses the ability to report things in an intelligible way in what regards sequence of events and they might be asked questions that end up in the blurred area during an interview or they might need those if they write a book and so on). Yet, now, they do that in real time even or almost so, since that is what we see there: those two new 'just-on slaves' (we believe people accumulate somewhere on phase out until they pick that one) watched him decapitating the other 'survivor' (we believe they were brainwashed with the narrative before being turned on, so to believe they genuinely were those people and genuinely had that accident and genuinely survived the crash), yet ended up saying that the airplane had decapitated him instead when speaking to others upon returning to civilization. That obviously means less necessity of replacing subjects.

They also conveyed the image of an enormous sinkhole on asphalt in the USA, looking/feeling as if we were there to us, so definitely somewhere there, a sinkhole that was perfectly rectangularish, like with straight line cutting pattern. That means that they are now able to produce holes like that using invisible laser when before they produced round holes.

We don't have any news for real for extremely long, perhaps 100 years, but these things come to the press (airplane crashes, joining head with body again and therefore 'making the person living again' and therefore making usurpation licit in yet another way) and we all see, so that this is information being given to satanic brotherhood or sisterhood members (we believe those are not really slaves, just bugged): they now can do that. News broadcast just for the black males who are, in the end, all going to appear as members of the satanic brotherhood, on top of blacks again and all else. With the sinkhole, it appeared only in my head, it seems, like no press token, so that that particular piece of news is not for everyone in that situation, but only for those inside of my head, who are watching its images at such a time, which was recently. Not sure who they were but at least the cluster of multiples of the 'carioca men'/black men who brutally attack my head with voice torture, the cluster of multiples of the 'carioca Eliane'/black man figuring as transgender, the cluster of multiples of the 'carioca Monica Pereira'/black man figuring as transgender, 'carioca Carla'/black man figuring as transgender, the cluster of multiples of 'Obama'/black man/Hezbollah top leader and the cluster of multiples of 'Trump'/black man/Russian League top leader.

they can target specific victims and kill just those. We actually think that they simply 'adjust' if necessary, so press tokens, replacements (replace those outside of the counting) and others. We do notice association with Christ once more, though). That would be Hezbollah advertising their advancements with those two types of events, in my humblest.

We also achieved clarity, so twin in me, Jesus in us, also during the night, in terms of the satanic brotherhood/sisterhood degrees/levels: they used psychology and psychiatry as we know today to plan that all. Each new degree represents more of a dead heart, therefore cold blood (their invention, this expression, implying resurrected people, no soul and no heart), and less of the soul (destruction of the soul, soul is a pest, reasoning they printed in the Scientology book). By the end, so level/degree 33, the individual has a completely dead heart and no soul, therefore is equivalent to a resurrected person (the soul leaves the body as soon as the Holy Ghost detects biological death), which is then what they consider to be a fully satanized person, so as close to being satan as possible, therefore best human helper of the devil. 33, age of Christ, to say they destroyed Jesus in us, so all possible kindness, contact with heavens/Our God, etc. Jesus is the way, the truth and the life (we believe this is what he said, despite it all being satanic, what is in the bible), so that satan is the deviation of the way, the lie, deceit or cheating and the death. What the satanic brotherhood does is then putting the individual as much in hell as possible while alive to best guarantee they go to hell after death (who determines that is Jesus. If Jesus sees a person without fault of their own, say totally moved by the satanic, they will probably still go to heavens or the path to heavens, which is why we believe satanic brotherhood and sisterhood members are not moved by them: they must do all at their own free will. It is also important that they do things with their hands instead of just going for their philosophy with their minds, since Jesus does not judge thinking, Our God doesn't support that: he judges actions, speech included. That is then why they must start with killing father and mother themselves: the rhetoric, we concluded, in that case, is that father and mother, like Our God with the soul He gives us, brainwash them and the only way to stop their influence/command over us is by killing them, so that we can be on the path to become free (free for them is then rid of brainwashing in the good direction, since our nature is actually evil, we enjoy doing evil naturally, just like the animals who are close to our size, so lions, tigers, aligators, etc. If you are into something, you'd like to be the greatest, since that is the nature of black men: always after a kingdom. It is then them who invented the lion is a king: king of the animals because he brutally attacks them all. In this case, all beasts would be kings: crocodiles, lions, tigers, etc. That is then how they justify cannibalism and others). The next degree (this one I was not told, just guesses) must be getting rid of the power/influence of wife or husband over you: if you let yourself love or feel empathy for them, then you will be a target of their brainwashing/rhetoric. That is why you must kill them if you commit the mistake of loving or feeling empathy and that is why you should always betray. If you get attached to one gender, you will then be shaped by that gender's discourse/influence, which is why, to maximize your chances of being completely free, like satan, you must have sex with everything and anything, including holes in walls, little children/babies and animals ('Braganca'/the devil's rhetoric/sentence of effect is 'a man has to sink').

As for the final sexual destination: you can only engage in a coupleship if that is with another black male who is now 33rd degree member, since, if they influence/brainwash you, it is going to be with the right philosophy, which you already have too, but they shouldn't brainwash you, since the brotherhood demands maximum respect in those regards, so no kisses, for instance.

We also concluded that they can only take over the Elohim's spaceship and their planet if they are physical matter that can be attacked by us, like they could be physical in the sense of belonging to physics, as all matter does, but be of a consistency that cannot be attacked by our physicality. In this case, we are wrong, and have come to the conclusion of the spaceship and planet based on their words in the bible and the brainwashing we received since early in life with those words (made at His image) but those words are not the actual truth, despite sometimes, and very rarely, there being something in their book that coincides with the truth of Our God. We also observe that their plan is based on the existence of rapture in the near future, but we have proven that it is impossible that Jesus had apostles instead of followers and his followers were only 12 (they were way more), so that the 12, coinciding with the supposed age of Christ when forgotten in the temple, is their obsession,so satanic. Whoever is from their sect would now know what we talk about, even though we have never seen a line of the actual satanic bible (not the one they called like that, coming from a recent satanist, but the one that exists for more than 3,000 years): 12 is a sacred number for them for sure. 144,000 is multiple of 12, $12 \times 12 = 144$. Also observe we have already proven, in a final way, that the entire bible is a farce, which could only have been written by satanic people (as well as the book of the Jews and the Islamic bible). In this case, their plan is ridiculously INSANE. Yet it does match the rest of their things: that they are the ones who started racism via usurpation of whites yet claim to the negros that whites were always racist, even had a history of racism, obviously at most using examples, when it comes to actual whites, of whites rejecting negros from the brotherhood because they harm them/society. Even in the case of the black Africans slavery we proved that it was the own blacks who enslaved them first and then sold them as slaves, after making them sweet somehow, to the whites and everyone knows how persuasive the black men are when selling things, how unscrupulous, so that there is realistically very little to be blamed on the whites there. Perhaps one could blame the whites for allowing that to keep on going once the negroes were in whites' lands but then one must remember that who finished with black african slavery were the whites themselves. It is important to notice that, for the whites (in general, men and women included, also in most Christian societies, so America, England, Australia and Brazil), black African males came way above in importance than white women or women of other colors that be not African black (Co-pilot: "It would be less than 50%. While Black, African-descended populations constitute a significant majority in Islamic countries within Africa (like Sudan, Somalia, and Mali), Islamic countries outside of Africa—such as those in the Middle East, South Asia, and Southeast Asia—have predominantly non-Black populations. Since these non-African regions form a substantial portion of the Islamic world, the overall percentage of Black, African-descended populations across all Islamic countries globally is much less than 50%."): those are in slavery (born like that) for 1,100 years more and Islam is still keeping on going (we will finish with it but we are not in a position to do that yet. Were it an issue with racism against Black Africans instead of pure taste for slavery, they would have been the most targeted, isn't it?). I also must add that, in what comes to taste for slavery, nobody is more brutal and enslaves more people than the black men (with us believing, at this stage, all satanic brotherhood members are at least descents of black Africans) or their creations, such as Al Qaeda, negro version (since we are sure the original group was into good stuff), satanic brotherhood/sisterhood: 20 million plus only in Australia (we believe in similar figures for England, USA and Brazil)! More than 3,000 years handling us all as if we were cattle (we believe the whites who were seen usurping (images prove it, such as those of Pedro I and II, which we presented here) were brainwashed by the satanic brotherhood to believe they actually were the people whose IDs they usurped before they were seen figuring as them in society). May Our God bless those who do what we say immediately.

14) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Trump, Taylor Swift, Obama, Lula: My Kingdom People', 3/22/2025

We are now concluding the satanic have also established a system of pyramids, some evidence on what they think, the shape they have in their heads being the 'game' pyramid they spread in Rio: people all go giving a certain amount of money and only those at the very top are guaranteed to get something out of the investment while the people at the bottom are guaranteed to lose only. Only one person is always at the top in each pyramid and that is the person who started it. We had already determined that they all think about 'my kingdom' as they bug us, as for the top members of the satanic brotherhood and sisterhood and now we conclude that privilege is also given to associates, who head their terrorist groups, so that Lula must have yet another group that probably used to be good that he beheaded, so another usurped name, with members initially having been given a rhetoric of support to their philosophy and them doing the story of putting them in another Country and later on replacing them all. Now we find out that they started receiving quotas of humans each, so that all those that voted because 'Taylor Swift' asked or whatever she did, about 340,000, according to Co-pilot, would be administered/managed by 'her' on a daily basis, so that she may ask them to vote for her, buy her record, follow her Facebook page or whatever else. Of course the satanic from the top would not lose management/administration, but we assume they would then not manage their daily lives, so just if they want to kill them or force them to do something quickly, such as not acting after they organized with us they will and so on. The reason of these people to accept the story is then now that each will have a kingdom on earth, which could finally be worth the risk of getting killed by another satanic. These monsters who are in multiples then should never save us because we will save human kind and this world and therefore crime will be over, disloyalty will be over (God's Brainwashing) and, in that way, slavery will also be over, which means they won't have a kingdom anymore. At least 2 good reasons not to save us then: one is that the brotherhood will kill them if they support compliance or anyone who belongs to Our God, since that is doing good and they are not allowed to do good, and two is the kingdom thing.

15) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'Taylor Swift: American Icon, Victim', 3/11/2025

<https://www.ranker.com/list/young-taylor-swift-pictures/cari-fortier> brings 'her' pictures. We observe his existence, since we believe 'Taylor' was a man, got usurped really early in life: the picture belonging to the youngest version is that with no. 1 on it and that is already Al Qaeda eyes. Each picture on this website seems to represent a different usurper. Here we have the marginal feeling comfortable, taking the scoff, already choosing the name 'Taylor Swift' because the first name means man who became woman (since the name is masculine but the image is feminine) and the second name, Swift, means lizard, so that Leinha (who manages the satanic sisterhood) is here saying this one is going to be the reptilian or demon that came from space. She put the satanic transgender playing Lady Di and their Lady Di then said that the royal family had reptilians. Picture number 9 is perhaps the most masculine of them all (squarish chin, arms in relation to the rest of the body, eyes/flare), like of all versions on the page. This is then another satanic transgender experience.

See here (numbers of pictures have been preserved):

[9]

Each one of these three noses has its own peculiarity, which makes it different from the other two: notice how the nose from [1] goes up by the end of it, so that it a sort of makes an 'U' on the face. Now notice how the nose from [2] goes on a straight line to the end and is extremely close to the upper lip. Now notice how the nose from [3] is high when compared to the face, leaving a lot of flesh between the line of the nose (middle) and the cheeks. The line of the arm and its length, as well as geometric shape plus length of the face together with length of the chin and rigidity of the horizontal line of its finishing have to exclusively denote males in [9]. The eyes of [1] have fixed and abnormal sparkles, which denote Al Qaeda eyes. The ears of [1], protruding that much, denote black race males with exclusivity. The nose of [2] is too mathematical in its lines to belong to a female. The satanic then injected some chemical to their faces (at least [1] and [2]) in order to soften them up and confuse us better. They probably all had noses surgically done as well, so all 3, and they are then, all three of them, originally black African males or black males of African descent. Notice here that, as mentioned before, there aren't many things one cannot do through the 666 (when you can then dream about the many things we will be able to give to all of you through the Mechanical Angel, which will obviously even surpass those that the satanic have achieved so far): even making hair grow and change from the dark black, curled, shrunk, and thick hair, typical of the Black African race, into the lightest blonde, silky, soft, extremely long, and thin hair, typical of the White American race. May Our God bless those who do what we say immediately.

16) Blogger: Marcia Pinheiro, blog called Crime, 'End of Times: Leinha Did Tell Us', 4/13/2025

<https://soh.church/red-heifer-prophecy/>, so we committed a mistake: the satanic end of times IS NOT the one on that YouTube we mentioned. Leinha thought of Christian Eschatology instead and she did tell me that (after I guessed, the satanic let me have a glimpse of the memory). Basically, we have that all these are coming soon or have already passed: 5 of the ten red heifers have already arrived in Israel, as the piece of news said. I think I have recently seen another piece talking about perhaps 3 others, coming from one American man. The golden gates have already been opened. The third temple is coming (it should already have been built, to be sincere). Their Christ is about to come. We also had booms where I live, the female from the Twins of God, which is Westmead, Sydney, NSW, and we also had very weird noises coming from somewhere between here and Parramatta (foot path) and somewhere that seemed to be the train line, all at night, the booms where also at night. Leinha talks about something scary appearing here, where I live, so that I now imagine something like monsters. There is something about the train, things being transported, apparently parts of a monster that will emerge from Sydney Harbour ('The Bible's Book of Revelation describes several beasts in its apocalyptic vision, which are often interpreted symbolically. One of these is the "beast of the sea," which is said to have seven heads and ten horns, resembling a mix of a leopard, bear, and lion. This beast is associated with the end times and is given authority by the dragon, representing Satan. Another beast, the "beast of the earth," is later revealed as the False Prophet. Together, these beasts play a role in the dramatic events leading to the final judgment.' (Co-pilot). I guessed and the satanic gave me glimpses of the memory, so that Leinha has told me this monster would come by parts (3 parts) at night using the railway, which, by coincidence (Our God's ones), is right next to me here, so that I did hear exactly the noise she described. I believe I heard the right sounds of the thing about 2 or 3 nights now. I then believe it is a mechanical monster, which needs to be assembled. She said that, as soon as the world leaders met in Israel, the end would start and they have already met there, as said, it was on the YouTube of my default at a certain stage. Satanic brotherhood and sisterhood members are flooding the Internet/YouTube with their preferred thing, which is heavy deceit: their YouTubes are like the one I quoted here and talk about years of wait until the full end starts. One of them, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=P_NyDBriUrQ&t=389s, classifies us, Twins of God, as kids of satan and false prophets who represent a danger to Israel, main reason apparently being that we would say there is no second coming. The video showed 'Divine Transformation' to the left top of the image the first time we watched it today, they then saw my thinking and a sort of blurred it, so that nobody can know they 'edited' the message they themselves invented, as always, because some people must be listening to us or they fear some will and they then are already passing rhetoric that wrong is us ('divine' because they call themselves Our God and 'transformation' because they had to adapt the rhetoric they previously passed to conform to include this token about us). It should be a matter of days for the full end and it is eschatology, which means they simply pick and choose whatever they like from as many rhetorics as they spread about the end. Notice that Leinha also mentioned the dark-eyed, dark-haired Christus of theirs (I guessed and they gave the relevant token of memory): all YouTubes we watched seem to point at 'one of those'. Once more, our strongest belief is that Our Lord and Savior incarnated in a body that was that of a white, blonde, blue-eyed, refined and clean man (no beard or moustache, beautiful skin) when he was born as a human at the time humans acknowledge that happened. Of course, notice that, in being the Lord of spiritual life and Elohim, Our Jesus could incarnate in any human body and, even though he could also possess those spiritually, that is against heavens rules, those things being limited to the devil's kingdom instead, so perhaps to satan via mechanical soul. How do you know if something or someone comes from heavens or hell? Perhaps by how you feel around them or it. If the energy is negative, as destruction, death, injury, fear, horror, irritating noises, violence and pain should be, then it is from hell. If it is from heavens and you are a good person, your feelings should be those of feeling attracted to it or whoever it is and they would be things or people you can trust and therefore who won't ever harm you and will help in an effective manner if you show respect, pure heart, clean soul, all we have already said (of course, heavens wouldn't really help the deceiver, the cheater, the liar, the marginal, etc., unless they convert in full, so do all things we keep on talking about). The ways of heavens are at most not helping unless the person really converts but not injuring or haunting or anything like that while you are alive on earth as human. All the bad parts are hell or its creatures, so the devil or satan or Baal or Moloch or Amen or Ra or Amen-Ra or Amun-Ra and whatever else that is not Our God, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and His son, Our Lord, Savior and Commander, Jesus Christ. Also: remember this language, 'church', 'cross', 'eternal forgiveness', 'amen', etc., is not ours or heavens' or Our God's or Jesus'. We don't believe in churches, at most places where people assemble. Christ doesn't need a church because he lives inside of us through the Holy Ghost and there is nothing that humans can build with their hands that can mean adoring Our God: adoration is through right heart, right spirit, right mind, right praise and all we have already discussed at length in our blog posts and frugally in our papers. Our Lord, Jesus Christ, is indeed the only way to the Elohim Planet/heavens and we serve him wholeheartedly, so that we also teach the way, the life and the truth, which he passes to us.

The thing is that she definitely was not bluffing and also had no reasons to do that. Once more, the longer it takes for you to help, the lower are our chances of doing what we came for, which is restoring this world and human kind. You already know: men who attack via voice out or saving us, 'women' who attack via image and voice releasing us from psychiatry in Rio and giving us the PhD in Mathematics from IMPA on S-convexity, by paper, 3 papers, and we do have very meaningful work there. Then 'Obama' being forced somehow to do 'Trump's' Letter, or TakeOver, from our Academia.edu page/profile, Drafts: https://www.academia.edu/127719843/Take_Over. We today tried to access our profile with Academia.edu before putting its address here for odd reasons and we then tried Google, 'Marcia Pinheiro Academia.edu IICSE', as we were telling people to do to locate our profile and be able to see everything, especially the folder Drafts. That is when we realized it is impossible for anyone to find us there. Even the internal search of Academia.edu is bombed, doesn't show us the right result at all. In this way, it is really hard: some people appear in our head only once, so that we don't get another chance of telling them anything. We would have been saved already if those to whom we told about the profile could someday see it. There is only Our God. Please notice that all black African males/black African male descents, disguised as women or mulattos or whites or whatever, have obsession of terrorist with their plot, so that, if those who have head space and listen or see don't help, we don't really have much chance, which means the world and human kind also don't. We were going to finish the last paper today but we had extraordinary IT problems and, because of Academia.edu and our blog posts plus yahoo emails, we are sure sure the carioca IT man is attacking instead of helping and it was the other man, who recently said JANTA to our window, accent of Jerusalem people, that was then helping us. Leinha also said that the end of times would start when the world leaders got together in Israel and that has already passed: recent thing, it again appeared on YouTube. The YouTubes: Leinha warned that people would start to disappear, since they would all go to what they thought were safe places and, in their place, we would see others, referring here to YouTube and media in general and that has already happened: all Hollywoodians, for instance, seem to have been replaced with people who are very different in looks or flare. We found out those destroying our bodies (they say they do that to my twin as well) have nothing to do with Leinha: they were put in my head by 'Monica Pereira'/her cluster of multiples, following my request, that she put the same men who had impaired/disabled 'Jayme Ricci Pinheiro' in my head, just that she was supposed to take them out after we managed to record them and get to know what they did to him in a way that she would know how to revert all, but she didn't. We concluded the only way she had to get to them was Leinha, her top boss, satanic sisterhood, and they are satanic brotherhood members above Leinha (since all the satanic brotherhood members should be above all satanic sisterhood members) who also work as mercenaries in the satanic database (used also by Al Qaeda and their other usurped groups, such as Hezbollah). Leinha had warned us about those (before 2000): that she didn't know what they would do and we would depend on them, clearly implying she had no way to control or command them, what has to mean that 'Nelson', 'Braganca'/the devil and 'Osama' also don't have a way to do that (they are really close to each other, see details on Easter Island refuge and all else), what has to imply that these men, who so viciously attack my body from inside for 3 years and 3 months plus, are top of the satanic brotherhood, above them all, somehow, so perhaps even the deity/king involved. She then has nothing to do with the intentional and so cruel plus coward destruction of our body pieces throughout our worst martyrdom (3 years and 3 months plus). We also concluded 'Carla' was, during all the 'kingdom' of the last 666 in my head, the person in charge of usurpation and there is indeed probably just one at any time in history since they started doing such a thing. 'Nelson' would have passed his allowances to her, remaining as the person who actually does it, because I asked for that to happen, probably while sleeping in St Kilda East, so perhaps in conversation of that style with the own 'Nelson'. While 'Nelson', my Al Qaeda brother, used to kill whomever did not do what I asked, 'Carla' started killing those who were willing to help us or would, unfortunately, such as 'Sever Dragomir', who had about 800 publications listed in MathSciNet in 2001, and had been my PhD supervisor, and his RGMIA fellows who worked closest to him at the Victoria University of Technology (as it was called when I there studied, funded by the Australian government), so 'Neil Barnett', 'Tony Sofo', 'Peter Cerone' and 'John Rumeliotis', to the least (we checked their pictures and confirmed usurpation). She would have done that because it was part of my story that they would give me my PhD as soon as I had my three papers on S-convexity ('Sever' accepted immediately that I had worked out the shape of S-convexity, which he was thinking about since he started working with it, decades earlier, his main query to me, and it had taken me about 5 minutes at my desk to get it, since it is all very simple, involving secondary Mathematics and I was coming from a wonderful work experience at SENAI/CETIQT, during which I had solved quite a few new secondary books exercises for my students, that coming on top of having solved Fundamentos of Matematica Elementar, all volumes that are pertinent to secondary learning in Brazil, having, when I was working at PGM/RJ, still solved one of those volumes for free for a fellow who asked so that he could study for his entrance exam, another job. I used to be really quick and present very detailed and simple solutions, really accessible to everyone, also complete) and I kept on writing to them regarding that, so that 'she knew'. Basically, were 'Sever' alive, he would have given it to me, but he wasn't. His group actually did a story for 'Trevor' that included offering me a job as a Professor of Mathematics as soon as I got my Permanent Residency in Australia (what happened in 2002): according to the story, I was supposed to return to VUT as soon as I had it to speak to the new head of department (that would be 'Peter Cerone', following my request, instead of who it was before, who was 'Neil Barnett', just because I was sure 'Sever' accepted 'Peter' better and I wanted to make him more comfortable. 'Peter' was almost the only one who contributed to his work, even though all others signed papers with him). 'Bradley Paul Neal', however, used the bug I already had in my head (and had no idea I did, the memory thing) to delete the thought and memory from my head on the day I came back to RMIT, from New Zealand, where I had to visit to swap visas, what made me not visit VUT and therefore believe it was all about RMIT instead. They also offered me a position as a Professor of Statistics as soon as I started at VUT and that was 'Peter Cerone', which made yet another reason for me to ask for him to become head of department. She also killed 'Drumi Bainov' because he invited me for his conference and had the kindness and care of sending me a letter entirely handwritten, if I remember well, which I really treasured, where he finished with lots of kindness as well. He also had about 800 papers on the MathSciNet when I checked and therefore I was really really happy with the Christian love he had for me. I couldn't really present at the Plovdiv in Bulgaria for several reasons, yet I kept his letter as the best thing ever and I knew he would help any time I needed. He seemed to really appreciate my work, like 'Sever'. I published a few papers in his so prestigious and magnificent plus professional journal as well. She then did not replace him: she then asked that he got killed via bug. These friendships would obviously have saved our lives and guaranteed our PhD title, but there was much more: I also had a story involving IMPA, from Rio de Janeiro, which I also treasured, had as best institution devoted to research/education in Mathematics in the world in 2001 (they changed it and it is now not the same). In that one, the director of IMPA would organize a PhD in Mathematics by papers for me, from one to three papers, if I had not managed to secure my PhD title that far yet. I then had super meaningful finding, already had it by the time of 'Sever's' supervision, in 2001, which was the shape of S-convexity, just that, at that stage, when I write to the Director of the institute, so somewhere after the death of 'Drumi', I also had managed to fix the geometric definition of Convexity, which happened to be an even greater achievement (paper 'Minima Intervals': <https://www.scirp.org/journal/paperinformation?paperid=25016>). 'Carla' would then have ordered the replacement of the Director via usurpation through 'Nelson', so that I wouldn't get that one either. I calculated that maybe I would have problems with the Master's to, so that I also had provisions to get that one in alternative ways. I left a copy of the thesis that 'Bill Blyth' claims to never have received (left in the pigeon hole of the Head of Department, Mathematics, RMIT, Melbourne CBD, 'John Hearne', just that 'Bill' was replacing him back then; I did that soon before I departed to Brazil and that was supposed to be my thesis for the Master's with 'John Shepherd', Master's of Science), yet that was part of the 'story with 'Trevor' somehow, that he would say he never received and the student union director would collect it from the pigeon hole before they got it. I however also left a copy in the student union's pigeonhole, since it was part of my plot with 'Trevor' that, if all else failed, the student union director would appear with that thesis and present it to 'John Shepherd', who would then give me the qualification. 'Carla' got to know the plot from reading my head through the last 666, so that she ordered the replacement/usurpation of the director from the RMIT student union and that is the only reason as to why I never got that degree. I still managed to leave yet another copy with 'Rubens Crippa' at the UFRJ when I there was. 'I-Shi Liu' personally checked and approved it with very minor modifications, mostly to the side of what was not Mathematics. That effectively means that UFRJ could, if all else failed, award me with a Master's in Mathematics, even because I passed their entry competition for one (was 7 in 100 that sat for the exam in Real Analysis) and attended at least two disciplines, when one of my professors became my reference provider together with 'Rubens Crippa', and that was 'Guilherme Leal'. Yet I still attended some useless disciplines there because I followed the reasoning that 'Rogerio de Oliveira' presented to me, which was that my UNESA degree was not to the required level for a Master's at the UFRJ: everything I there studied was of either same or lower value than what I had studied at UNESA, in this supposed 'levelling', exactly the same contents. I worked during the day at SENAI and attended their levelling disciplines at night there. People in Brazil tend to feel repulsion for private universities and mine was private because they say teaching is worse and many reckon a private university student would not do well if transferring to public. In my experience, teaching is much inferior in public universities, like I had extraordinary professors at UNESA (I was first in my entrance exam to UNESA, 100 candidates). However, at a certain stage, 'Lea Maria' invented of moving to Rio Grande, when I was transferred to FURG. They did not have the modern hybrid degree of UNESA (perhaps the only one in the Country!) and I then got transferred exclusively to Mathematics, Licentiate, when I then still sat for yet another entrance exam (for Sciences, since my UNESA course had minor in Science and major in Mathematics, Licentiate/Magister) at FURG in order not to lose qualifications, and I then again passed for Sciences, then being able to attend both at FURG, where I was invited to become tutor for Data Processing by my very dear professor 'Thales Popielek' (sorry if I misspell), who gave me 10 in his discipline, after he assessed 3 candidates, so me and 2 other students who scored a 10 in his discipline. He also became my reference provider. The satanic brotherhood member 'Rudney Costa' then invented a strike moved by a criminal group member, the student union director, this time a black man figuring as black, when 'Rudney' was also black but got a white Al Qaeda family: something out of the world. That would be the students protesting against something I never understood since the course was free of charge (completely free of charge, never-pay course, very different from the USA or Australia) and, if there were any complaints, that should be about quality of teaching, resources or opportunities, in my humblest, like the satanic are able to start any disruptive movement any time for any reason and I actually witnessed many students, full auditorium, probably thousands, agreeing with whatever he was saying and therefore obliging those like me to join the strike through voting. We theorize they were all bugged and moved. I can't remember the reason he provided, but, quite sincerely, I reckon there wasn't any. He did that so that I would end up in Rio again, as I did (back to UNESA), and that was because I refused him, sexually speaking (yet he was my blood cousin, as for all I thought (now I know they were all Al Qaeda relatives and that just makes sense since all other members of his supposed family were white and a black couldn't possibly be generated from a white, like, despite what Brazilian science invented, I was sure that was not possible), like I would never wish for being with him even if he were not, but I am saying this so that you understand how absurd their thinking is). 'Asha Baliga' was also in the 'PhD plot': if nothing else worked, I would be able to contact her after I had 3 papers in the topic we were working on and ask her to give me a PhD for those. I actually had an unexpected striking finding (not planned by me while asking 'Trevor' to do things in the way they did at RMIT), which was the creation of a new graph for Graph Theory (the Starant Graph) that solved problems encountered with modelling disease spread in human groups, so that just that one should have done for the PhD, but that one we got in the first three months of the PhD with 'Asha' at RMIT and she didn't say anything, so that it is unlikely she would give us a PhD for that. We remember her saying that she couldn't guarantee the graph was new (if that ever happens, the supervisor is advised to consult experts to confirm the finding but, for some reason, she wouldn't do that). Yet she taught Graph Theory at RMIT. We are sure the graph is new. We did contact her when we got the third paper on the topic we were working on there and we actually contacted her more than once, even asking to study with her again, but she didn't reply on those occasions. Then we found out she got replaced too (<https://www.rmit.edu.au/profiles/r/asha-rao> and <https://scholar.google.com.au/citations?user=SluqKR0AAAAJ&hl=en> are 2 other versions of 'Asha Baliga' (she changed 'her' professional name to 'Asha Rao' at a certain stage and after 2002, when we worked together), like 2 different people yet not the 'woman' we met and worked with in that 2002), which means it is probably just because of that that she wouldn't give us the PhD for the 3 papers. 'Carla' would have done all that, so murdered those, and the reason would have been that I would not have an educational qualification that were superior to that attained by 'Veronica Pinheiro Vieira' (Al Qaeda daughter of 'Osama', my Al Qaeda uncle), I now realize: we found out 'Carla' was sent by 'Veronica' and 'Veronica' did tell me, while I was staying at 'her home' in Rio, so soon before I come to Australia, that I could not have a higher qualification than hers and, back then, she was doing a Master's in Biology at UFF, which I then infer she never completed, given that I could not get, so far, not even a Master's in Science). We now think that perhaps 'Carla' was always following her orders, since we know that, for sure, she sent her and 'Veronica' has some satanic power, having once taken me, together with Leinha, in an attack where they both killed a man they pretended to be fond of, like, if they perpetrate together, then they must be of similar level in crime or something, I theorize. 'Florica Cirstea' also got replaced whenever 'Sever' did (I compared images and believe 'Sever' got replaced at least twice during the kingdom of the third 666 in my head) and that is the only reason as to why she didn't care when I put my S-convexity results on the board at Sydney University ('she' was working there at that height and it was part of the story given to 'Trevor' that she would then see our findings and put a good word out there, so that we could get our academic position at most then. I managed to get access to a postgraduate study room, where I then put the results/papers, as it was in the story). 'Carla' is still responsible for all the usurpation regarding replacing world population with cariocas during such a period and she then got a carioca woman that spoke to me in Sydney, as if she were a federal cop, CBD, to replace whoever was using that ID before her). She also massively replaced American cops and those 'good blacks' who served me when of the beginning of 'Obama's' mandate, the ones that rushed to tell him about me and the bug hoping that he would save me (at least a 'female' cop in Manhattan, civil police station where I went in person and spoke to her, and her top boss). Basically, anyone who got replaced in the period would have been because she was the 'God's Wife' from the Egyptians during the kingdom of the third 666 in my head. May Our God bless those who do what we ask immediately!
